

Shehab Elected Despite Protests By Premier Solh

National Front Gives Him Support

Beirut — (P) — Gen. Fuad Shehab was elected president today by a resounding vote of rebel and government deputies in parliament who see in him a hope for peace in Lebanon.

As Beirut celebrated with a wild flurry of gunfire, Saeb Salam, rebel leader in the capital, voiced a sobering note. He told the Associated Press: "We will continue to fight on until our demands are met."

Two major demands are the withdrawal of U.S. troops and the immediate resignation of pro-western President Camille Chamoun.

Chamoun issued a prompt reply to one of these demands, telling newsmen he intends to stay in office until his term expires Sept. 23. He made the statement after talking with privileges voted by the senate.

Opposed by Premier
Shehab was elected with the strong backing of the opposition national front, of which Salam is a member, and over the bitter protests of Premier Sami Solh.

A compromise choice to end the long rebellion against pro-western President Camille Chamoun, the 56-year-old army commander-in-chief was elected on parliament's second ballot.

Shehab got a whopping 48 votes to 7 for his only rival, middle-roader Raymond Eddé. One ballot was blank.

Rebel leaders applauded Shehab's election while Solh boycotted the meeting in parliament. Solh denounced the election as unconstitutional and declared it was held in "an atmosphere of terror and pressure."

Just before parliament met, national front Deputy Nessim Majdalani told newsmen his group had met with Shehab yesterday and the general had agreed to their conditions.

Hopes for Unity
These conditions include the immediate resignation of Chamoun, immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops, and sweeping civil service reforms.

Saeb Salam, the rebel leader in Beirut, told the Associated Press by telephone he hoped Shehab's election "will open the way for cooperation of all the Lebanese people."

"I hope this will be one of the episodes of victory of the national revolution of all Lebanese people to save Lebanon from oppression, corruption and occupation."

Shehab remained secluded and it could not be determined how far he would go toward pressing the national front demands.

Several deputies predicted Chamoun will resign soon, clearing the way for Shehab to take office. Chamoun's 6-year term ends Sept. 23. Rebels op-

Turkey Gives Recognition to Iraqi Regime

Acts as Result of Decision Made by Treaty Members

Ankara — (P) — Turkey, close ally of the fallen regime of King Faisal, recognized the new republican government of Iraq today.

The action followed a decision taken by Iraq's former Baghdad pact allies — Britain, Turkey, Iran and Kassem Pakistan — during a meeting in London this week, which Iraq did not attend. Iran and Pakistan already have announced recognition.

Recognition leaves the door open for the new Iraqi regime to stay with the pact if it wants to.

Much attention was given here to a reported statement by Iraq's new premier, Gen. Abdul Kerim Kasim, that Iraq wants the closest friendship with Turkey. This statement was given to a reporter of the Istanbul daily newspaper Milli-yet in an interview Tuesday in Baghdad.

New Soviet Accusation
The Baghdad pact allies' moves to re-establish friendly relations with their old partner did not stop the Soviet Union from launching a new accusation that they were "sharpening their knives" to attack Iraq. The Russians warned they would immediately come to Iraq's aid.

The Soviet Union, communist China, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia recognized the new government shortly after the revolt. Yesterday Moscow named one of its top diplomats as ambassador in Baghdad. He is Grigory Ziatsov, chief of the Soviet foreign ministry's Middle East department since 1954 and a member of the soviet parliament.

The new Baghdad regime also was recognized today by Italy and Japan, and yesterday

U. S. Steel Acts To Boost Prices

Pittsburgh — (P) — United States Steel Corp., the world's biggest producer, today boosted rolled sheet and strip steel prices approximately $4.25 per ton.

U.S. Steel's announced prices follow the same pattern set earlier this week by Armco Steel Corp. and other producers, although the previous effect of this increase had been reported by Armco at approximately $4.50 per ton.

A U.S. Steel spokesman said the difference in the announced average price increase resulted from variation in the types of products made by the companies.

Macmillan Calls for UN Council Session Aug. 12

Tells Khrushchev He Will Attend in New York, Geneva or Other Place

London — (P) — Prime Minister Macmillan today asked Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to attend a summit meeting on the Middle East, Aug. 12 — in New York or elsewhere. He proposed discussions both informally and under United Nations auspices.

He said he would attend the Aug. 12 meeting and added: "I have no reason to suppose that the president of the United States would not be willing to go either to Geneva or New York."

The prime minister read to the house of commons the text of a letter which he had arranged to have delivered to the Soviet premier in Moscow only a short time before he suggested that permanent representatives on the security council — which would include nationalist China — should decide on the meeting place.

"If this meeting is agreed I shall be there on Aug. 12," he added. "I hope you will be there too. So far as I am concerned New York, Geneva or any place generally agreeable will do."

Both conservatives and laborites in the commons cheered Macmillan's announcement.

London — (P) — Prime Minister Macmillan announced today he is calling for a special meeting of the United Nations Security council to take place Aug. 12 and that he will attend it.

Macmillan told the house of commons he has advised Nikita Khrushchev "New York, Geneva or any other place generally agreeable will do" as the site for the special conference on the Middle East crisis.

He read a text of a message which he has delivered to the Soviet premier today and in it he declared:

"I hope you (Khrushchev) will be there too."

Macmillan told Khrushchev in his letter: "I am now instructing the United Kingdom permanent representative to propose to the president of the security council a special meeting to take place under Article 28 (of the U.N. charter) on Aug. 12."

Would Discuss Plans
Meanwhile, the permanent representatives should discuss arrangements for the special meeting and decide where it will take place.

"I have no reason to suppose that the president of the United States would not be willing to go either to Geneva or New York," Macmillan said.

The British leader told Khrushchev the conference he had in mind certainly would allow "less formal meetings of heads of government" to be arranged, in addition to the sessions of the whole 11-nation council.

This offer indicated he was meeting Khrushchev's expressed desire for informal, face-to-face meetings of the government chiefs of the big powers along the sidelines of the security council conference. Macmillan said in this respect:

"The procedure would thus be flexible and should promote the chances of making progress."

Dismisses Red Charges
Macmillan dismissed, almost contemptuously, Khrushchev's charges in his letter last Monday that the British and the Americans were trying to maneuver out of the projected conference.

The Soviet leader also repeated accusations that the Americans and British were guilty of aggression in the Middle East and planning new ventures. Macmillan declared: "I will not reply to its (the letter's) many accusations against allied policy in the Middle East."

"None of these has any foundation in fact."

Senate Votes for UN Police Force

Washington — (P) — The senate voted overwhelmingly today in favor of creating a permanent United Nations police force large enough to keep peace in the Middle East or elsewhere.

A 66-14 roll call vote tabled a motion by Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) to reconsider earlier voice vote approval of a U.N. police force resolution.

The resolution now goes to the house.

Timetable for New Prange Store Moved Up

Plan Razing of Wolter Building Late Next Week

H. C. Prange company has moved up the timetable for construction of its 6-story, multi-million-dollar department store at W. College avenue and N. Appleton street.

Demolition of the Wolter building, immediately north of Midway street, will start next week, probably Thursday or Friday, William Pifer, store manager and vice president, said today.

When building plans were announced May 15, Prange officials said this work on the first of two construction stages would begin about Jan. 1.

"Removal of some obstacles since then permits us to get started earlier," Pifer said.

Moving Set
The Wolter building is an 85 by 100-foot, 2-story brick structure, with basement, used by Prange for its garden shop, window-trim department and merchandise storage. These departments probably will be moved to the Prange building at the southwest corner of W. Lawrence street and S. Appleton.

A common wall joins the building to another small building on the north. This has a common wall with the Cannon building, site of the company's

Social Security Benefits and Tax Boost Up in House

Washington — (P) — The house called up for action today a bill to fatten social security pension checks.

The far-reaching measure, with an accompanying increase in the payroll tax on 75 million covered workers and their employers, was expected to whisk through the house with election-year ease.

Every election year since 1952 congress has liberalized the social security system. Despite administration misgivings, the pattern seemed likely to be followed again this year with the November elections in the offing.

In addition to raising benefits and tax rates, the bill provides for easing of eligibility requirements, and increase by $288 Outagamie County Coroner Hoag and Jean Bieritz, told the federal government's share of state-operated public assistance programs for the blind, disabled and other needy.

Its chief provision calls for a contributing cause since she was subject to seizures.

2,200 Fox Cities Families Without Dairy Products at Their Doors

An estimated 2,200 Fox Cities families were without milk on the Sheboygan outlet is the only one not involved yet.

Spokesmen at Shawano headquarters of the co-op today declined comment, but Harold

Milkman on Route Sees Own Home Afire

Green Bay — (P) — Milkman George Amunson was making for his rounds Wednesday when he discovered a fire in his own home, unoccupied because his wife and five children had gone shopping.

The house, located in the nearby town of Hobart, was leveled, with damage estimated by firemen at a minimum of $5,000. The cause was undetermined.

Executive Vice President of Drug Firm Shot to Death in Indiana

Indianapolis — (P) — Forrest Teel, 54, executive vice president of the huge Eli Lilly & Co. pharmaceutical firm, was shot to death early today in a shopping center, and witnesses said another car sped away.

Police found few clues except the disheveled condition of Teel's clothing and tire tracks of a car driven away at high speed.

Teel was the top sales executive of the drug firm which does a $200 million yearly business.

Backed from Driveway
An autopsy was scheduled to recover the three small caliber bullets which went into his throat, right side and right hip.

Witnesses told police Teel's white Cadillac backed out of a driveway of an office building, then circled over a lawn, ran across a street divider strip, over a curb and hit a utility pole. Teel apparently was unconscious at the time.

The shooting scene is located a fashionable section in the between the large Meadows Broad Ripple section of Indianapolis and the west apolis. He is survived by the widow, Mary Elizabeth, and a son, Tom, 14.

Reports of two men driving away in a cream-and-blue Oldsmobile came from Earl Alexander, 43, a neighbor out walking his dog, and Charles Hendrick, 16, counterman in a restaurant in the shopping center.

Alexander said he saw the car speed away after he heard noises that he thought were firecrackers.

Homicide Capt. Michael Smiley said it's "too early to say" what motive could be assigned to the shooting. "I believe he was shot inside the car," Smiley said.

Teel wore a dark summer suit, but no tie, and his shirt was unbuttoned.

5-Inch Rain Brings Floods in Kansas

Atchison and Kansas City Hardest Hit as Rivers and Creeks Pour Over Banks; No Injuries Reported

Atchison, Kan. — A swift, damaging floodwaters surged last night through Atchison, where another flash flood caused $12 million damage only three weeks ago.

A belt of thunderstorms brought up to five inches of rain to a wide area of northeast Kansas and northwest Missouri. The deluge produced flash floods in several cities.

Hardest hit were Atchison, a city of 13,000 population 60 miles northwest of Kansas City, and the greater Kansas City area.

Off-duty policemen were recalled this morning in Merriam, Kan., a suburb of Kansas City, to help evacuate low-lying areas threatened by Turkey creek. Water blocked streets throughout the metropolitan area.

No injuries were reported in the storm area, but police rescued dozens of stranded motorists in Atchison and Kansas City.

The Blue river poured over its banks in southern and eastern Kansas City, and the weather bureau said it would crest at 16 feet above flood stage at points. In a special bulletin, the bureau said the Blue would reach 37 feet along Bannister road in south Kansas City, where the flood stage is 21 feet. The threatened areas include both residential and industrial sections. The big Sheffield Steel corporation foundry is just west of the Blue river on Independence avenue.

Water from a rapidly rising lake southwest of the city weakened a dam which protects Overland park and Prairie Village, Kan., but the Johnson county sheriff's office said the dam held.

An automobile carrying Walter J. Coffey, 46, and his two sons, John W., 15, and Jimmy, 12, was swept into Brush creek in the southern part of Kansas City. After the car was carried 25 feet down the stream, all three climbed a tree. They were rescued by firemen.

Heart Attack

Paul Dillion, 42, suffered a heart attack after his car became stalled in an underpass. His brother, George, carried him to safety.

Pabst Acquires Blatz Brewery For $16½ Million

Chicago — Pabst Brewing company has announced the acquisition of the business and assets of Blatz Brewing company, a division of Schenley Industries, Inc., for a total cash value of $16½ million.

A joint statement of the transaction came Wednesday night from Harris Perlstein, president and chairman of Pabst, and James C. Windham, president of Blatz. Perlstein will continue as chairman of Pabst and Windham will become president of the firm.

The purchase price includes more than $14½ million in cash and debentures, 200,000 shares of Pabst common stock, currently valued at about $2 million, and stock purchase warrants for Pabst shares.

The debentures, totaling $3½ million, are payable serially over the next eight years. The stock purchase warrants expire July 31, 1968, and cover 350,000 shares at prices from $10 to $12.50 per share. They have no immediate value.

Resume Work At GM After Wildcat Strike

52-Worker Walkout Idles 4,600; UAW Orders Return to Jobs

Detroit — General Motors corporation planned today to resume production at two plants in Detroit shut down Wednesday by a wildcat strike. The strike idled 4,600 workers.

Leaders of the United Auto Workers union ordered a return to work. The union has banned work stoppages during no contract operations at GM, Ford and Chrysler plants pending a decision later this summer by the top leadership on possible strike action.

General Motors said 52 employees at Fisher Body's Fleetwood plant walked off their jobs yesterday in a dispute over seniority, with the result that 1,600 workers at the plant and 3,000 at the Cadillac assembly plant were sent home.

Some 400,000 UAW members have been working without contracts at big three plants for the past two months. UAW members are under instructions from union leaders to stay on the job pending further negotiations on new contracts.

GM has had comparatively few work stoppages during no contract operations. Ford has had no work stoppages so far. Chrysler has had a series of wildcat strikes at its Plymouth body and assembly plants here.

Disputes at the Chrysler plants resulted in union filing Wednesday of unfair labor practice charges against the company with the National Labor Relations board.

Charges Discrimination

The union filed the charges on behalf of local 21, which represents employees at the Plymouth body and several other plants. The union accused the company of discriminating against union stewards and shop committeemen during no contract operations. The company denied the charges.

The Detroit office of the NLRB said it will investigate the UAW charges before deciding whether it is necessary to hold a hearing.

Man Killed by Mother In Accidental Shooting

Riverside, Calif. — A mother accidentally shot and killed her 23-year-old son as they practiced fast draws against each other in their home, the sheriff's office said Wednesday night.

Deputies said Mrs. Dorothy Clayton, 45, and her son, James, an airman at nearby March Air Force base, were seeing who could outdraw each other with 22 revolvers. They thought the guns were unloaded.

On the third draw the gun fired as Mrs. Clayton pulled the trigger and her son fell dead with a bullet near the heart.

Sheriff's Capt. Robert Presley said the shooting was accidental. The mother was taken to the hospital in a state of hysteria.

The dentist said he had only $800 in his account. Mrs. James Taylor, 45, Hillsborough, Calif., a patient, offered to write a check for $1,500. The doctor's receptionist, Mrs. Cynthia Blake, right, wrote a check for $800. The intruders then bound and gagged the dentist and receptionist and forced Mrs. Taylor to go with them. They took her to a bank where she cashed the checks and released her unharmed. Dr. Selleck's wife had never been kidnaped. (AP Wirephoto)

Test Pilot Undergoes Rocket Flight Pressure

Experiment Simulates Same Conditions Need To Put Occupied Space Ship Into Orbit

Los Angeles — Test Pilot Al Blackburn sits strapped in the tiny cockpit, a jaunty smile on his tanned face. He is one of the first fliers to volunteer for a test that duplicates the same pressures he'd feel in a 3-stage rocket accelerating to 18,000 m.p.h.

His cockpit is in a laboratory at the University of Southern California medical school, in a centrifuge — a machine whose 24-foot-long arm spins the pilot fast enough to match the pressures of rocket flight.

The experiment, conducted yesterday, is to test human reaction — both mental and physical — to rocket flight pressures.

Blackburn still smiles as the machine spins slowly in a circle, then picks up speed.

Smile Vanishes

The grin is strained, however, as the pressure mounts to 3 Gs, which means his normal 165-pound weight is, in effect, nearly 500 pounds. The smile vanishes at 5 Gs.

A camera mounted on the whirling cockpit monitors Blackburn's reactions. As the pressure increases his shoulders are squashed backward, his lips purse and his prematurely white hair stands straight up. He has great difficulty activating testing controls.

At 8 Gs — when he weighs the equivalent of 1,320 pounds — his mouth opens in a silent gasp as he struggles to breathe. He can't breathe at all in the last seconds of the 350-second flight.

Then it's over. The theoretical space ship is in orbit. How does it feel?

"It's like an iron band squeezed around your chest," the 35-year-old North American Aviation pilot said yesterday. "You take quick breaths, then finally you can't breathe at all."

The tests are part of an air force project to come up with answers on what effect the pressures of space flight will have on humans.

Free Ore Boat From Mud

Carrier Loosed After Part of Cargo Hauled To Ashland Shore

Washburn — The ore carrier Thunder Bay, stuck in a Lake Superior mud bank for three days, squirmed free Wednesday night after part of her cargo had been hauled to shore.

Owned by the Canadian Steamship lines, the Thunder Bay ran aground Monday when she veered in Chequamegon bay to avoid a barge threatening to blow across her bow as the vessels met in a channel leading to Ashland.

The ship, loaded with an estimated 15,000 tons of ore, was stuck in about three feet of mud under 17 feet of water.

The Thunder Bay was able to pull herself loose after a scow had removed about 1,800 tons of ore in three trips. After she came loose, the scow moved alongside and put the last load back aboard.

The ship then returned to Ashland to reload the ore that had been taken off earlier and stored in railway cars.

Haiti May Ask U. S. to Probe Coup Attempt

Four Americans Killed in Plot To Unseat Duvalier

Port-au-Prince, Haiti — The Haitian government may ask Washington to investigate the unsuccessful attempt to overthrow President Francois Duvalier launched from Miami. Four Americans and three exiled Haitian officers were killed Tuesday when their plot failed in fighting that took seven other lives. Port-au-Prince was calm yesterday and the government said it had completely restored peace in the Caribbean republic.

U.S. Ambassador Gerald Drew said he thought it "deplorable and shocking" that Americans were involved. American diplomats expressed dismay at reports from Miami indicating the sheriff's office there had advance knowledge of the plot but did nothing to warn Haitian authorities.

Identify Americans

Two of the slain Americans were identified by Haitian police as Arthur T. Payne and Dany E. Jones, both former Miami deputy sheriffs.

Police investigators in Miami said Payne, Jones and four other former deputies had been promised $2,000 each to help political exiles overthrow Duvalier. The sheriff's office said the men either had resigned or been fired before the attempted coup.

A trailer license tentatively identified a third slain American as Robert Hickey of Miami and the fourth body bore documents with the names of Evan T. Keastes of Buffalo, N. Y., and Joseph Walker, no address.

Haiti's U.N. ambassador Edmond Silvain said in New York that Duvalier sent him a message saying "There is no question but that the communists were collaborating in this plot. We are ready to turn our evidence over to the proper American officials."

Haitian officials also charged the plot was inspired by former President Paul Magloire and former Sen. Louis Dejoie, who lost last year's presidential election to Duvalier. Both men denied this in New York.

Doctors Fight to Save Life of 11-Year-Old With Kidney Transplant

Operation Will be First of Its Kind in Medical History

BY DICK SINNOTT

Boston — Nils-Olov Wisell is different from most boys 11 years old. He's small — 4½ feet. He's light — 50 pounds. And his life hinges on a human kidney the size of your fist.

The youngster was born with only one kidney. He lost it last April when he toppled from a merry-go-round near his home in Motala, Sweden. Doctors hope to save his life in a history-making operation by transplanting a kidney from his mother.

Procedure surgeons have selected in Nils' case is intricate. He was under observation for a week, then irradiated (given a deep X-ray therapy) to destroy his bone marrow in preparation for the transplant. Irradiation was necessary because his own white cells would attack and reject the transplanted "foreign" organ.

Treatment on an artificial kidney followed. Then he received two bone marrow transplants from his mother. More artificial kidney treatments are given when needed.

Rare Blood Type

He has been given infusions of blood platelets to prevent hemorrhaging. Platelets are one of the blood substances which produce clotting and twins have been unsuccessful, which had to be destroyed in Nils when he was irradiated. It takes eight blood donors received since he was admitted to Peter Bent Brigham hospital on July 1. "How can you put a price on a human life?" every other day.

When Nils suffered a serious setback he was given an infusion of liver cells flown from Sweden. The cells taken from an unborn baby that had died, it is hoped, help supplement the boy's bone marrow.

If the transplant is successful, surgeons say it may open the way to a whole new field of medical developments. No date for it has been set.

Before Nils came here he wanted to be an airline pilot. Now, after watching television, he wants to be a cowboy.

A team of 50 doctors and surgeons is working on Nils.

More than a thousand persons — from hospitals' laboratories to laundries — are attempting to save his life. Seven hospitals have pooled their resources to help him. More than 500 persons have volunteered to donate blood.

Swedish-speaking nurses are for Nils around-the-clock. An ultra-violet ray to kill bacteria screens his door.

Exhaustive tests to help him are underway at Lund Medical clinic in Sweden, at Mary Imogene Bassett hospital, Cooperstown, N.Y., and locally at Deaconess hospital, Children's Medical center, New England Medical center and Harvard Medical school.

Nils' hospital expenses are met by the Hartford foundation.

Cards and gifts pour into the hospital daily for the tousled, tawny-haired youngster, who asks his nurses morning and night "When can I go home?"

"Be Brave"

Nils' parents spend hours outside their only child's room while doctors and nurses hover over him. When he is alone they sit beside him, masked and gowned. They tell the freckle-faced lad to "be brave."

Oscar Wisell, a butcher, and his wife, Margareta, cannot speak English. The Rev. Harry Johnson, of the Salvation Army's Scandinavian branch, acts as their translator.

Businessmen Face Higher Mail Costs

New Rates Mean Expenditure Of Extra Thousands in Fox Cities

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Cities businessmen, already burdened by bulging costs, today were looking at new sets of outlay figures which will go on the books when federal postal rates go up at midnight tonight.

The increase, an estimated 33 per cent in over-all postage costs, will boost some firm's expenses by many thousands of dollars.

Hardest hit in the Fox Cities will be insurance companies, the paper industry, utilities and the city government, all of which make extensive use of the mails.

There is little grumbling about $131,600 per year for heard from business executives mailing, compared with $100,000 as they brace for this latest, 800 previously cost burden. Some are planning a streamlining of their mailing systems but most say they will just have to "take it."

Aid Association

The Aid Association for Lutherans, for example, expects yearly mailing costs to jump by about $30,800.

An AAL spokesman said average quarterly costs for non-metered mail under the old rates were $13,200. The firm expects to pay $4,400 more each quarter for the same volume now. Metered mail costs per quarter previously were $12,000, with an anticipated increase of $3,300.

Thus, under the new rates, the company expects to spend up approximately $7,000 per year in the Fox Cities alone, according to R. C. Van Sistine, manager.

Paper Industry

At Thibault Pulp and Paper company, Kaukauna, mailing costs are expected to rise about $3,000 per year to $13,800 annually. The company says it has no plans for changing its mailing system now but will pare costs wherever reductions can be made.

Integrity Mutual of Appleton is preparing for an additional mailing outlay of $1,741 per year—boosting its total expenditure to almost $7,000 annually. The firm, in an ordinary month, sends about 1,230 letters in its normal correspondence, 2,000 premium notices and 850 mailings to agents.

Home Mutual Insurance company officials say their mailing costs will go up $3,250 per year on all types of mail to a total of about $18,700. The firm handles an average of about 365,000 pieces of mail.

Appleton's city government, too, will feel the effects of higher postal rates. City Clerk Elden Broehm says the boost will result in an extra outlay of $800 per year for mailing. He makes the breakdown this way: Regular mail, $600; tax bills (15,000 of them), $150; billings, $40; hearing notices, $80, and elections, $50. The city spent about $1,680 for mailing in 1957, he said.

The Post-Crescent's first class mailing costs will go up about $1,200 yearly to about $5,300 under the new rates. The newspaper and other firms like it will not feel the full effect of the new rates until Jan. 1 when the second class rates go up. Another such increase is scheduled for July 1, 1960.

The story is much the same in Neenah and Menasha. Marathon division of American Can company estimates the rate increase will mean an additional $35,000 to $40,000 cost to the entire division. A survey is being made to restudy the most efficient use of existing air, rail and truck service.

Kimberly-Clark

Upwards of $20,000 is estimated by Kimberly-Clark corporation as additional postal costs. The company said it continually makes studies and changes in mailing procedure to hold costs down. About 8,000 pieces of incoming and outgoing first class mail, not including bulk mail, advertising and promotion mail, is handled by its general office mail department.

One of Menasha's largest mailers, George Banta company, was unable to estimate its increase because its mailing falls into various categories. The bulk of its mailing is in educational and scientific magazines which go under second class rates. These rates do not increase until Jan. 1. Book mailing also forms a large part of the company's business, and these rates go up one cent for the first pound and one

Democratic Committee Opposes Suggested Blanket Vehicle Tax

The Outagamie Democratic campaign committee has passed a resolution opposing the blanket $31 vehicle tax proposal calling instead for a fee based on blue book value.

The resolution was presented by Richard Zingsheim, Democratic candidate for the assembly, at a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. William Cherkasky.

Twenty-two members attended the meeting to organize campaign committees and provide coordination among candidates.

cent for each additional pound.

Bergstrom Paper company of Neenah expects its mailing costs to go up about $850 a year. A spokesman said the firm is not making any changes in its mailing nor is it anticipating any changes to offset the added cost.

Equitable Reserve association of Neenah estimated the postal increase will boost its mailing bill from about $7,000 a year to between $9,000 and $10,000. Most of its mailing is first class, such as premium notices, but it does send some parcel post and its company publication to policy holders.

This goes second class.

Most businessmen appeared to be philosophical about the new rates. "It's a service we're getting," one said, "and I'd like to see the postal department become solvent."

Another official said the increase arrives at a bad time when business, generally, is "hurting" but, he said, mailing actually is a small part of overall operating costs.

Whatever the situation, the 3-cent stamp will soon be a memory, but it's passing, evidently, will be well noted in may a Fox Cities business ledger.

Fund Drive for Boat Landing

High Cliff Park Group to Open Campaign Aug. 1

Five new committee chairman and one assistant were named Monday night to complete the area-wide group in charge of raising $4,500 for the proposed small boat landing at High Cliff State park.

The campaign will open Aug. 1 in Outagamie, Calumet and Winnebago counties, according to Gordon A. Bubolz, general chairman of the High Cliff State Forest Park association. It will run through the month. The planning session was held in the offices of the Home Mutual Insurance company.

Appointed for the Kaukauna area were Donald E. Swetz and his assistant, Edward Oliva. Mark Lamers will head the Little Chute drive; Ole Gossens was named for Combined Locks, Ralph J. McClone for the Menasha campaign and Daniel Kuehl for Neenah.

Drive chairmen formerly appointed include Clem McHugh for Appleton; Richard Verbeten, Kimberly; Joseph Volmer, Hilbert; Victor Seifert. New Holstein. Verbeten is chairman of the campaign committee and Seifert is vice chairman.

Nearly $1,100 of the $4,500 goal already has been raised, Bubolz said. He pointed out that work on the boat landing won't start until the area funds are raised, but it is hoped that construction will start this fall.

Plans for developing the 45-acre tract along the lake shore south of the lower cliff road N. Oneida and W. Atlantic have been approved by the conservation department. Final action and the go-ahead signal is expected in August from the state conservation commission.

The $4,500 raised locally will be used entirely for the small permanent boat landing. Development plans include more improvements than the landing, however. These are a central picnic area with three parking units and a shelter; a roadway and special parking units to accommodate trailers as well as cars in the boat landing facility; a large 114-car parking lot, footpath and bath house in the third major area; and a softball diamond in a recreation area.

A larger boat harbor also is in the planning stages, but is not included in this development. This harbor is for the future and is planned for a different location, according to Bubolz. A special High Cliff Forest Park association committee has charge of the larger harbor project and it will be a separate phase of park development if a future decision is made to construct it.

Walk Lights Up at Wisconsin Avenue, N. Oneida Street

The city electrical department has completed installation of walk lights at N. Oneida street and Wisconsin avenue. Work is underway to prepare street for stop-go lights and walk lights. When that project is finished, the department will erect stop-go and walk lights at N. Division street and W. Washington street.

Each Wisconsin avenue corner with a stop-go light has walk lights except N. Division. Lights were installed earlier this summer at N. Richmond street and N. Morrison street. Lights at N. Mason street went up two years ago and those at N. Drew street last year.

Seymour Line Gets Approval for Hwy. 22 Route to Wautoma

Madison — In a move to create added competition aimed at better trucking service for Wautoma, the public service commission has authorized the Seymour Transfer lines to operate between Waupaca and Wautoma over Highway 22. The commission noted that increased competition should encourage better service at Wautoma than that offered by carriers now serving the community.

'Egghead' Is Dirty Word Among Nation's Teenagers, Survey Shows

BY EUGENE GILBERT

A simple thing like the widespread use of the term "egghead" may be causing irreparable harm to the United States in its efforts to match the Soviet Union in technical achievement.

The dictionary defines an egghead as a "very intellectual person" and the definition was accepted by two-thirds of the young people we put the question to in our latest poll.

But there is more to a word than just a dictionary definition. There are emotional overtones, too. And among American youth, egghead is an insult.

That scarcely anyone wants to be called an egghead is underscored by the fact that few young people expressed an interest in the fields of study generally considered to produce them.

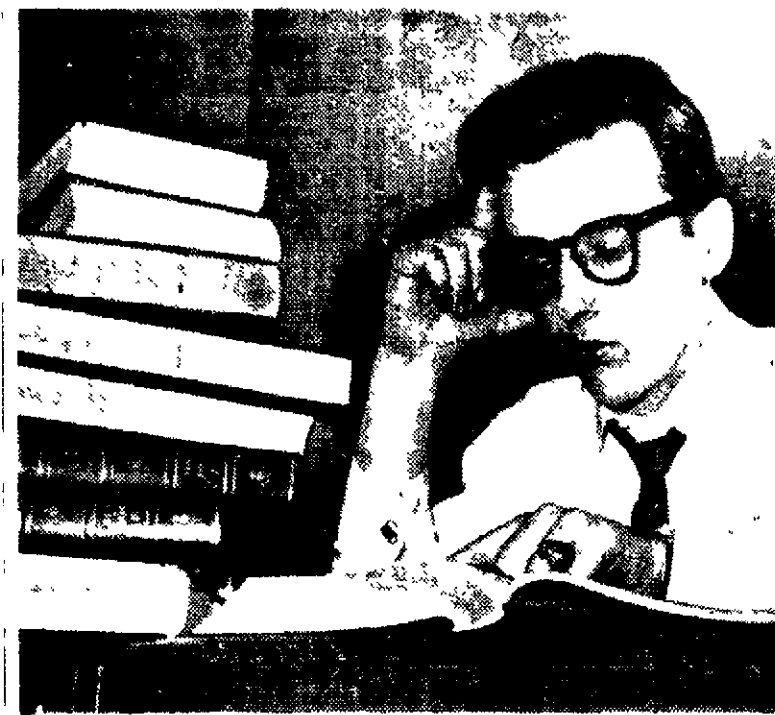

Possible Harm
And this is where harm may come to America's future position in the cold war. Only about one in 25 of the young people in our poll told us they are interested in science and engineering; less than one in 20 in teaching; one in 17 in law, medicine and other professions.

These are the very people most needed by the United States in its atomic-space-missile age competition with the Soviet Union.

Some of the comments that turned up in our poll indicate that the word "egghead" and by inference the word "intellectual" — to our young people really means someone who doesn't fit into the group. And, certainly, just about everyone wants to belong.

To Bill Cord, 15, Baltimore, egghead is a "dirty name." Renee Greif, also 15, Cleveland, says she calls her kid brother an egghead "when I'm angry with him."

Why? Well, take a look at

Watch It, Fellow. Study too much like this and you'll risk your reputation for being a good guy and might end up being an egghead. Eggheads, according to a nation wide youth survey, are held in disdain by most teenagers today and few want the term applied to them.

some of the synonyms that the make despised eggheads of term egghead calls to the teen-agers. They all popped up with regularity in our survey.

"An egghead is a grind," said Sara Lunden, 16, Miami. "A weirdie," added 16-year-old Frank Gennaro, the Bronx. "An oddball," said Sheila Carney, a 15-year-old Coral Gables, Fla., girl.

Some, however, had a good word for the downtrodden egghead. Sidney Kaner, 18, of Miami, told us he and his friends use it as a term of endearment for one of their buddies.

"We call him that because we like him," said Sid. "Sure, he goes nuts over Bach and he likes chess — but he also plays a mean hand of poker and he can give you batting averages like a baseball encyclopedia."

In Minority
Sid also was in a distinct minority in that he was one of the few who admitted numbering an egghead among his friends. Nine out of 10 vehemently denied that any of their chums fitted the category.

More than two out of three teenagers told us they could spot an egghead by his above average vocabulary. One in 10 said they could tell him by his appearance.

Perhaps the general antipathy toward the egghead and what he stands for explains why seven out of 10 young people told us they were having no truck with art and music courses in school and 84 per cent said they steer clear of the school drama club.

But, it's interesting to note, the young people draw a sharp line between the egghead and an educated person. Half of them plan to go to college and 10 per cent intend to go on to graduate school.

Don't they fear college may because I expect to spend the rest of my life in a library but because I think college prepares us to understand not only books but nature and people and, most of all, to enjoy life more.

Seem to Agree

At least three out of each four of the college-bound teenagers apparently agree with Frances because they told us they plan to take liberal arts courses, those most likely to produce a well rounded person.

The young people are almost evenly split on the question of whether the college degree, now fairly common, commands the same respect it did in past years. About 43 per cent said yes; 54 per cent no.

"Generally, people don't look down on a person with or without a degree," said Clyde Robinson, 17, Indianapolis. "They don't look at the title. They look at the person."

Anthony Muscato, 18, New York, said roughly the same thing a bit more bluntly. Said Tony:

"There are as many jerks in college as there are outside. I respect the man, not the degree."

Non-Support Adjourned

A non-support charge against Garth Craig, 38, 131 S. Oneida street, has been adjourned three weeks to allow Craig to pay for the support of his minor son. Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede, told Craig the charge would be dismissed if he kept his payments current.

"I'm going on to college not rent."

City Offered Plan for Four Waste Baskets At Northside Spots

A plan for waste baskets in four places on the northside was offered the city today by F. C. Sign Studio, 604 E. Frances street.

F. S. Conrad, of the studio, says in a letter to the council he will furnish the baskets if the council will permit him to sell advertising space on them at the rate of $1 a month. Clients would be limited to one ad per basket and would have to sign contracts, he said.

The baskets would be placed at the N. Meade, N. Durkee and N. Richmond street intersections with Wisconsin avenue and at Northgate Shopping center.

The letter will go to the council next Wednesday night.

Man Given an Hour to Leave City or be Jailed

Hugh F. Taylor, 49, no permanent address, was released from the Outagamie county jail and given an hour to leave the city by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

Taylor, who had been in jail 11 days, was fined $25 for drunkenness and told he would be given credit for time served if he left town in an hour. The charge was amended from disorderly conduct. Taylor was arrested after an argument July 15 in the 600 block of W. College.

Endorsements and the Primary

Almost the first public act of the merged AFL-CIO organization, Wisconsin, at its first convention in Milwaukee last week was the endorsement of a straight ticket of Democratic candidates for state office.

Those who are aware of Wisconsin political trends of recent times were not surprised. It was predictable. Nor is this comment intended to criticize, as such. The delegates of the local unions in Wisconsin surely have a right to announce their preference for those men and women seeking public office whose principles and purposes they regard as similar or identical to their own.

But it is a fair comment, we believe, that those professed defenders of the principle of the "open primary" who have trembled so often in their indignation about other "endorsements" have uttered not a word of criticism of this incident, and in fact appear to be chortling about it as an augur of the prospects of the political parties this year.

For nearly two decades men and women who prefer more conservative and moderate views on public questions have met in voluntary association at the so-called Republican state conventions and have ventured to offer recommendations to their neighbors and friends with respect to preferred or qualified candidates for public office.

Invariably they have been pictured as violators of the principles of the Wisconsin primary election laws, as nefarious creatures of the special interests, and worse. They have been maligned and impugned and scoffed at, until there have been some elements of the voluntary Republican groups that have wondered about the efficacy of such practices in the face of the persistent malice of an opposition press.

It is another example, we submit, of the curious selectivity of the "liberal" point of view, as the "liberal" point of view is so often represented today, of the astigmatism that carries within it a contempt for the intelligence of the average voter whose mind is the target of the propaganda. Endorsement by organized groups with a patently selfish goal is permissible and even admirable, if "liberals" are endorsed. It is undemocratic and evil, if another viewpoint is involved.

We repeat, the organized labor delegates had a perfect right to indicate their support for particular candidates — although the device might have been more effective had there been a pretense of examining both parties for qualified men. We hope it is not presumptuous to suggest, however, that other groups have the same right, in a system of politics and journalism that pretends to decency and honor.

Gen. Claire Chennault

Lt. Gen. Claire Chennault was a soldier who won his rank the hard way, almost in spite of the United States high command which often seems to confuse the qualities of a capable leader with the rule books. His last promotion was achieved just two weeks before his death through a special bill approved unanimously by both houses of Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

Gen. Chennault was a school principal in Louisiana when the first World War broke out. He served in the infantry and then the aviation section of the signal corps. He joined the regular army in 1920 but was forced to resign in the 30's because of his undiplomatic approach to air power. He barnstormed with "three men on a flying trapeze" for a few years and then Mme. Chiang Kai-shek called him to China to train Chinese pilots.

Theodore White wrote some years ago: "This was Claire Chennault, airman extraordinary. Chennault was the advocate of air power — completely, unreservedly. For his beliefs, expressed repeatedly and without hesitation, he was forced out of the U. S. Army and went to China in 1936, where he watched and analyzed the early battles of the Japanese air force . . . In 1941 he took out to Asia a handful of second-rate P-40's and a collection of undisciplined, courageous, magnificent Army and Navy pilots from America to form the American Volunteer Group, which he welded into one of the most spectacular single striking groups in the history of aerial warfare, the Flying Tigers. When the Japanese struck at Pearl Harbor, he was ready to fight Chennault's men shot the Japanese out of the skies with relentless success day after day while other Allied air fronts throughout the Pacific were collapsing before the Japanese zeroes."

And wrote Vincent Sheean, like White no admirer of military men. "The creation of a first-class fighting force out of this material was a triumph of the personality, will and talent of Claire Chennault . . . Chennault did it by his talent for command, his imposing personality and his iron will."

No one ever claimed that Claire Chennault was a placid person. He was a fighter and performer in the tradition of the American soldier. It is a pity that so often such characteristics are not recognized by the top brass until too late. It may even have been that if Chennault had been listened to a little more closely the Chinese Communists would not have had a boost to power by so-called American diplomats.

Lethal Weapon in Back Yards

The Post-Crescent frequently receives pictures such as this one but rarely publishes them in deference to the sensibilities of our readers.

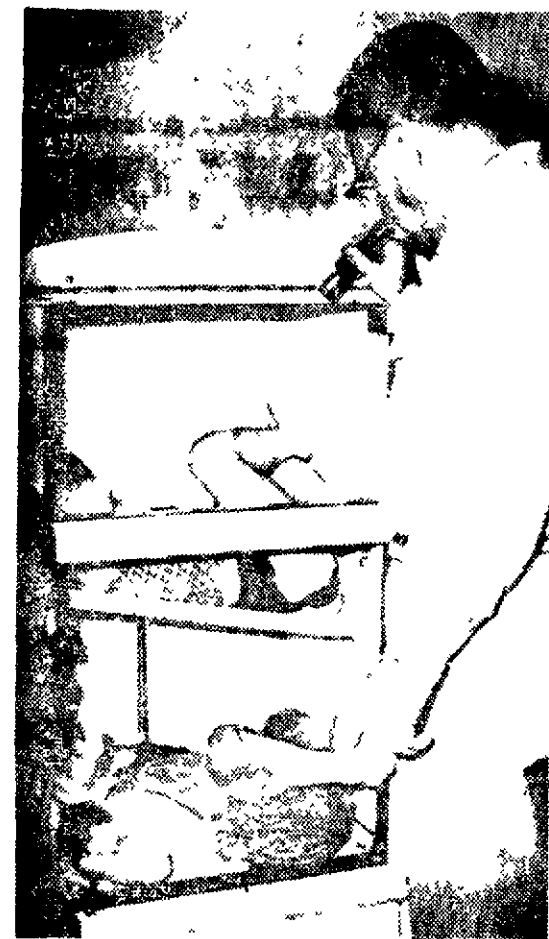

Two children were found suffocated in an abandoned refrigerator near their rural home in Edgerton, Wis., last week. A boy, 4, and a girl, 5, his sister, were last seen in the early evening and when a search for them failed, they were reported missing. The children were found by their mother with their pet, a dead kitten.

This tragic story has been written in many communities, large and small across the nation. Two years ago, the story was told over and over: names and places were the only differences.

Newspaper stories, no doubt alerted parents and made them aware of this inanimate but lethal weapon in their back yards, in garages, sheds and barns. But the tragedy continues to be re-enacted.

These old refrigerators can be disarmed by removing the doors thus making it impossible for small children to lock themselves inside.

Perhaps, communities which do not have ordinances controlling the disposal of unused refrigerators, should consider the passage of laws which would eliminate this cause of needless death of youngsters.

Exodus to Cities Made by Young, to Suburbs by Old

From the Fort Worth, Texas Star Telegram

The heavy population exodus from the cities to the suburbs has been a revolutionary shift sorely complicating problems of the metropolises, ranging from revenue collection to traffic needs. Virtually universal ownership of automobiles has stepped up the movement from the city to the country.

Yet studies of population trends in the metropolitan area of greater New York, while affirming the heavy exodus, also show an about face to the city by a certain age group, young married couples of between the age of 20 and 30 years. Their parents have taken them as children to the suburbs, but after going to college or serving in the army the younger generation often becomes disillusioned with suburban life and commuting and moves to the city.

On that score, studies report that the younger persons seek the diversion and recreation attended by the large city and lacking in many suburbs. Economic opportunity likewise is better in the metropolis, notably for working wives. One young married woman explained that, had she stayed in the suburbs, she would have been "an old maid stenographer or a school teacher."

If, as anticipated by the studies, suburbs are destined to be made up of older persons and small children as young married couples shift to the city, further explorations should be made to determine whether the veneer of suburban charm does not wear thin as residents become older and less able to handle all the chores of owning a house and grounds.

Yard work and maintenance of houses are activities alien to the person who is confined to an office most of the week. Those phases of suburban life clearly are not for the elderly with limited physical resources.

Central Intelligence Agency Too Often Deficient When Most Needed

From the Ohio State Journal

Each year, congress appropriates undisclosed sums of money to the Central Intelligence agency for espionage and counter-espionage abroad. The sums appropriated are not disclosed because the whole environment of the CIA is secrecy. The purpose of the espionage is to discover for the United States "all the things which should be known by government in advance of initiating a course of action."

Time and again throughout recent years, our intelligence operations have been found to have been woefully deficient. In fact, there have been times when it has been wholly lacking just when it was most urgently required.

Repeatedly, our government has not known in advance that it should be initiating a course of action, let alone what the course of action should be. The responsibility for the failure must rest largely with the Central Intelligence agency.

It has been stated over and over that the United States was "caught short" by the British-French invasion of Suez in 1956 — that these two allies of ours actually set a task force in motion without our state and defense departments being tipped off.

Six years earlier, the communist North Koreans invaded South Korea without an advance tip from intelligence.

Vice President Nixon's recent experiences in Latin America revealed either how poorly CIA was informed about attitudes in the countries which were visited, or how pitifully inept it was in being able to interpret them and forward the information to the White House.

It now would appear that the United States was without any alert as to the possibility of the recent uprising in Iraq. Yet Iraq is in the very heart of the super-sensitive Middle East with which we have been so much concerned of late.

Iraq, we are told, was the keystone of the arch in the Baghdad pact with which the United States is closely identified and of which some of our collective treaty allies are full members — Britain, Turkey and Pakistan. Iraq supposedly was the staunchest friend of the west among the Arab nations of the Middle East.

Presumably CIA could mingle freely there. Yet a rebellion broke out there like a thunderclap which has precipitated a tense crisis in the whole troubled Arab world, actually threatening world peace.

If, by any chance, CIA did discover what was going on under cover and reported it to Washington, did we do anything to warn King Faisal and his government? If so, why were the Baghdad treaty representatives of Turkey, Iran and Pakistan kept waiting at an airport in Ankara for the delegates to arrive from Iraq for a meeting of the treaty allies, without knowledge that the government of Iraq had been overthrown, and hence that no delegates would arrive from Baghdad.

Congress would do well to look into the Central Intelligence agency to determine how much dependence can be placed on it to do the work to which it is assigned. It is foolish to go on spending untold millions of dollars in an intelligence set-up which doesn't appear to know the meaning of intelligence in its most sensitive aspects.

Advisory Group Losing Status in Jobless Compensation Policy

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — A political device that was highly touted for years in the state government and that is gradually eroding away is the advisory committee method of policy-making in the field of unemployment compensation.

Wyngaard

The fact the committee has virtually lost its influence has strangely been ignored during recent public discussion of recession-fighting amendments designed to liberalize the job insurance system.

There are those, moreover, who are not sorry. Employer spokesmen have been increasingly suspicious that their own interests were not served by the system. Legislators and governors ostensibly chosen by the people to make decisions in this field also were growing increasingly restive about the usurpation of their function by non-elective advisory committee members working for the most part with immunity from public scrutiny and publicity.

HISTORY

The advisory committee was one of the proudest of the administrative innovations of the old Progressive era in state politics and especially that period when Progressive rulers of the state relied heavily upon the opinions of University of Wisconsin economists and political scientists.

Ideally, it was intended as a kind of buffer between governmental administration and the people. Representative citizens or persons of special competency in various fields were to offer the benefit of their wisdom and experience to the men on the firing line in government.

The advisory committee was included as an integral part of the unemployment compensation system pioneered by the state traffic started moving across a great, five-mile bridge in northern Michigan. This structure, one of the latest of man-built wonders of the world, opens up its small but important sphere of transportation economics.

The week of June 29-July 5 was one to remember, and one to remind us there are many other significant developments just ahead.

22 years ago, and which now covers nearly a million wage earners and virtually all of the employers of the state. But it was enlarged considerably. It did not confine its work to giving advice. Its employer and employee representatives formed a kind of policy making board that gradually absorbed functions technically reposing in the legislature.

It brought in so-called "agreed" bills at each session of the legislature, and assured the lawmakers that because both of the parties to the program wanted them, there should be no reservations about writing them into law. The legislature did, for many years, usually with only a handful of them really knowing what they were doing.

But now there is visible a change of attitude. The legislature is bestirring itself. A Legislative Council committee has made an examination of the unemployment compensation program, its policy and practices, a major order of business.

NEW LOOK

Some of the employer groups are taking a new look at the situation, too. The virtual breakup of the advisory committee during the last session of the legislature principally resulted from the increasing skepticism of the employer members.

As one of them put it in a talk before the legislative group the other day, there has been an awakening to the fact that the advisory committee has been the means of achieving regular and substantial liberalizations in the program that might have aroused some public interest and debate had they been offered without the advertised "agreement."

There may also be an increasing understanding of the fact that there is a public interest in this vast program which now boasts the huge reserve of $243,000,000.

For two decades policy making here has seemed to involve only management and covered labor. But it must be obvious that to the extent that these laws involve wage and production costs the consumer is also involved.

The public interest in this basic and big program has long been ignored or played down, with the result that less is known about it than about many lesser aspects of state governmental operations. The new mood that is apparent in the legislature is probably a constructive one, and surely a refreshing one.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 2, 1879.

The old Temple of Honor Band has been reorganized recently, under the name of the Crescent City Band. Mr. J. A. Nix, a competent instructor, has been engaged to teach the members.

Mr. E. C. Foster is president of the musical group and Arthur Lieberman secretary.

There is no reason why this band should not become one of the most efficient in the city. Our best wishes are with the boys.

Larger State Program for College Loans Possible Legislature Topic

Madison — Expanding state program of loans to needy and worthy students for higher education institutions is a strong possibility in the next legislative session.

After declarations by both Wisconsin parties favoring such credits, the leadership of the governor's conference on education beyond the high school offered an explicit proposal to make more state credits available.

The executive board of the conference is composed of men and women known as moderates and conservatives. Their proposal, therefore, is likely to be interpreted as the minimum in the way of new legislative action on the subject.

Local Bank Loans

They would enlarge the existing state loan reserve, which has been relatively inactive, and otherwise modify it to make it better known and more easily available.

Allen Abrams of Wausau, a retired industrialist, is chairman of the sponsoring organization. A vice president is Catherine Cleary, a Milwaukee banker. Other members are leaders in business, the professions and public education.

As a part of the enlarged effort, the conference also asks that private banks sponsor a college credit program. Talks will begin soon with representatives of the Wisconsin Bankers' association on this. Under such a plan, banks would make loans to qualified students from their localities and a specially created state corporation would guarantee them. The loans would be repayable at the minimum prevailing rate of interest.

For the state legislature, the sponsors of the conference recommended that:

The present student loan fund be increased from its $100,000 reserve to $500,000.

Loans to students be increased from a maximum of $1,600 to $2,000 for a four year college course.

The repayment period be raised from two to four years after a student has finished college.

Need Certified

Administration of the student program be moved from the department of public welfare to the department of public instruction.

(The present state loan program dates back to the early college credit program. Talks will begin soon with representatives of the legislature in the 1930s, when the legislature

Ghana Leader Calls for End Of Imperialism

New York — An African leader said Tuesday night the colored peoples of Asia and Africa have had their fill of imperialism, racial superiority and colonialism.

Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, prime minister of Ghana, said there can be no real peace until relations with colored peoples are put on the basis of freedom, equality, mutual respect and dignity.

No More Imperialism

Nkrumah, an American-educated, 50-year-old Negro, heads 16-month-old Ghana, an independent member of the British commonwealth.

"The world must indeed learn to realize," he said, "that the peoples of Africa, as indeed the peoples of Asia, will not put up any longer with imperialism and any notions of racial superiority and colonialism."

He predicted full freedom for Africa and added: "I am simply stating that the obvious fact of a vast African majority should be accepted as the basis of government in Africa."

Nkrumah, visiting this country at President Eisenhower's invitation, spoke at a dinner given by the Urban League, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the American Committee on Africa.

Ghana's independence, he said, "cannot be complete so long as large parts of Africa continue under colonial rule."

He also said progress in ending racial segregation in the United States should be "freely acknowledged."

Her Terrifying Experiences Forgotten for the moment, 6-year-old Patricia Kenney smiles in a Peru, Ill., hospital Wednesday after 60 stitches were used to close wounds in her right leg. Patricia was clawed Tuesday by a circus leopard. (AP Wirephoto)

Leopard Turns Circus Trip Into Horror for Little Girl

Peru, Ill. — For little Patricia Kenney the exciting trip to see the clumsy circus elephants turned into a moment of pain and horror as a snarling leopard swiped out with a paw and dragged the screaming girl to its barred cage.

"I just saw this paw come out and catch the little girl," related Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald who took Patricia, 6, and seven of her chums to the circus grounds Tuesday.

"Then I heard her scream. It was terrible. That awful cat could have got any of them."

Sixty Stitches

Patricia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kenney of nearby Utica, was reported in serious condition in a Peru hospital. Sixty stitches were required to close fang wounds in her leg.

Mrs. Fitzgerald of Troy Grove told this story:

She was driving her son, Thomas, 8, Patricia and six other neighborhood children home from a swimming lesson and stopped at a shopping center north of Peru. The circus, sponsored by the Peru American Legion, was nearby.

"The kids wanted to see the elephants and walk through an unused circus ring surrounded

Naval Chief Retires From Pacific Post

Honolulu — Adm. Felix B. Stump relinquishes the largest U. S. military command in the world today and retires from the navy.

Stump is turning over the Pacific command to Adm. Harry D. Felt, 56, for the past two years vice chief of naval operations.

A formal change of command ceremony was set for 3 o'clock this afternoon at Camp H. H. Smith, the Pacific headquarters on a hillside overlooking Pearl Harbor.

Held Post Longest

Stump has been commander-in-chief, Pacific, (CINCPAC) longer than any of his predecessors. He assumed the post in July, 1953.

At 63, Stump is retiring after 45 years in the navy. He has not divulged his plans beyond saying he would take a leisurely cross-country trip to Washington, D. C., visiting friends en route.

Felt, a flying admiral, inherits an organization embracing all American military forces from Alaska to the Indian ocean. He will command nearly 500,000 men, 400 ships and 2,500 planes. His appointment was announced last May.

Won Navy Cross

In World war II, Felt won the Navy cross as leader of a bombing and torpedo air group from the carrier Saratoga which sank a Japanese cruiser in the Battle of the Eastern Solomons in August, 1942.

In 1956 he became commander of the Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean.

Felt was born in Topeka, Kan., and graduated from Annapolis in 1923.

ferred, is the one which permits high-level attendance at security council meetings.

In Paris, earlier, there meetings of the 15-nation western alliance had failed to iron out differences among Britain, France and the United States over acceptance of a Soviet bid to a summit conference.

Nehru Would Attend

The United States generally agrees with Britain on holding a top-level conference in the framework of the security council. France prefers a private meeting of the big powers outside the U.N. French and U.S. replies to Khrushchev are expected later today or tonight.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru told a parliamentary committee he intends to leave about Aug. 10 for a summit conference and expects one to be held the second week in August.

Macmillan told parliament Britain could have replied to Khrushchev yesterday. But he added:

"I have thought it right to accept the short delay inevitable in making our consultations not merely a perfunctory exercise but a reality."

These consultations, he explained, have been with Britain's allies and commonwealth partners.

Macmillan made plain that Britain stands by its original proposal of July 22 for "a special meeting of the security council to be attended by heads of government."

No British Resolutions

He said Britain also stands by his proposal four days later that permanent delegates of the 11-nation security council make necessary arrangements for the conference.

He repeated that Britain does not intend to submit any resolutions before the special security council conference unless they arose out of previous agreement between the 11-member nations.

Then Macmillan declared: "Of course this meeting (on the Middle East crisis) would not preclude the holding of the summit meeting for which we have been working for some time."

Macmillan was referring to the top level-conference envisaged by east and west as a means of tackling great world issues outside the Middle East region.

Macmillan read the text of his message to Khrushchev apparently only 30 minutes after it had been delivered at the Kremlin. He preceded disclosure of the text with a short statement in which he referred to the projected talks as "a high level meeting to discuss the Middle East."

posed to his pro-western course have been demanding he resign now.

Cites Constitution

This in itself would not clear the way for a U. S. troop withdrawal, which depends on re-establishment of internal security and a U. N. guarantee of Lebanese independence, a U. S. embassy spokesman has said.

Solh, long a foe of the non-political Shehab, based his objections to the election on constitutional grounds. He claimed presidential candidates were bound by a constitutional provision requiring any military man running for parliament to be retired from the army six months before becoming a candidate. Other officials said this applied only to parliament, not the presidency.

Despite Solh's boycott, 56 of the 66 deputies attended the parliament session.

The session began with a reading of the constitutional articles relating to the election of a president. Then the vote began. Each deputy cast his vote as his name was called.

Immediately after the vote, parliament speaker Adel Osseiran called on Shehab and informed him of his election.

Nehru Sees Summit Meeting Near Aug. 10

New Delhi — Prime Minister Nehru said today he expects to leave India about Aug. 10 for a summit conference.

Nehru told a meeting of parliament's foreign affairs committee that he not so hopeful about the possibility of British troops withdrawing from Jordan.

second week of August "if all goes well." The United States and Britain reportedly plan to propose that the meeting start between Aug. 10 and 15.

Nehru told the committee he anticipated U. S. troops would begin withdrawing from Lebanon before the summit meeting as a "token measure" but was a "sensitive" committee that he not so hopeful about the possibility of British troops withdrawing from Jordan.

Air Service Terminal to be Built in August

North Central May Begin Flights Here By End of October

Construction of temporary airline service facilities at Outagamie county airport will start in August.

The county's airport committee and members of the chamber of commerce airport committee conferred today with Robert Smith, regional station superintendent for North Central airlines, on facilities needed for airline service. Service is tentatively set for Oct. 27, date of North Central's regular schedule change. It is dependent upon the civil aeronautics board issuing an order for Appletan air service.

The county will spend an estimated $6,500 to build a 16 by 40-foot temporary terminal building, sealing the gravel apron in front of the existing airport office, constructing a wire fence between the loading area and the parking lot and installing a ceiling light—a beam aimed skyward to indicate the height of clouds.

Temporary Terminal
The temporary terminal —concrete block or prefabricated metal—will be built next to the existing airport office on the northwest side of the field.
It will contain North Central's operations office, a waiting room and baggage room. Eventually, the temporary building will become the airport office—after the permanent terminal is built on the southwest side of the airport next year.

Present plans call for passengers to board planes on the taxi ramp apron about 60 feet from the terminal. This area is south of the present parking lot.

Manager Named
Manager of the Outagamie port North Central station will be Robert Meyer, present manager of the Oshkosh station.
Two other North Central workers will be in the office.

Estimated cost of the temporary building is $4,000, the fence $915, the gravel sealing $800 and the ceiling light $350.

Appletan Kiwanis Members Attend Resource Tour

John Jenkel, 1525 W. Summer street, and Anton Knuppel, 1831 N. Appletan street, were among 38 members of Kiwanis International who participated in the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district's ninth annual natural resource tour.

The workshop was at the Trees for Tomorrow camp at Eagle River. Jenkel and Knuppel are members of the Appletan
North Side Kiwanis club.

The tour provides business and professional men a chance to appraise the significance of Wisconsin's renewable natural resources at work-soil, water, forests and wildlife.

$7,500 for the work and given the airport committee power to take bids.

$230,000 Improvements
Work on the cross runway and terminal building, for which federal aid has been asked, probably won't begin until next year. The state aeronautical commission has applied for the aid and the federal government has made an initial appropriation for air rights. No action for acquiring the rights has been taken.

Estimated cost of total improvements to the airport is $230,000. The airport is a class
III port, which means that it can accommodate feeder line service with DC-3 aircraft. The improvements will not change the classification.

Less Liquor Used In State During First Half Year

There was less liquor consumed in Wisconsin during the first six months of 1957—a check received by City Treasurer

The check is for $23,722.92, the city's share of liquor taxes collected by the state during the 6-month period. It compares to a $25,852.17 check received at this time last year.

Liquor tax shares are being distributed to municipalities on the basis of 69.75 cents per person in the 1950 census. Last year the share amounted to about 65 cents more per person.

Crown Zellerbach Reports Drop in 1958 Net Income

Crown Zellerbach corporation announced results for the first six months of 1958, reporting earnings of $14,190,000, 16 per cent below net income for the first half of 1957.

Earnings per share came to $.98, compared to $1.18 earned in the same period a year ago.
Earnings for both periods have been restated in accordance with a revised accounting principle on deferred taxes. Under the accounting principle formerly used, Crown Zellerbach would have reported earnings of $15,900,000, or $1.11 per share.

The corporation's flow of cash from net income and expenses which did not require cash outlay came to $26,949,000 for the first six months of 1958, down 4 per cent from the same period last year. Cash flow is unaffected by the change in accounting principle reported above.

Earnings for the second quarter this year showed an increase of 19 per cent over the first quarter. Sales and production were up 6 and 8 per cent respectively.

Sales for the first six months of 1958 amounted to $223,374-000, 2 per cent below last year.
Production of paper and paperboard during the same period came to 774,100 tons—a 9 per cent drop from last year's six months' output to 851,700 tons. Lumber production was up 31 per cent and plywood 14 per cent.

Uncle Ray Gives More Facts on Alaska, To Become Nation's 49th State

BY RAMON COFFMAN

There was high excitement in Alaska when the American Congress accepted that mighty stretch of land as a new state.

Q. How much larger than Texas is Alaska?

A. In area, Alaska is two and one fifth times the size of Texas. When we compare the two in population, the story is different. Texas has something like 40 times as many people.

Q. Has the population of Alaska grown very much during the past 70 years?

A. The answer is "yes" but there is doubt as to the exact figure for the present year. Seventy years ago there were hardly 4,000 whites in Alaska, along with about 30,000 Eskimos and Indians. The white population has increased greatly since then, but there has been little growth in the Eskimo or Indian population.

To obtain an exact population figure for Alaska, we shall need to wait until a new census is made two years from now. Eight years ago, the total population was 128,000. Four years ago an estimate of 208,000 was made for the territory of Alaska, but about one third of the residents were classed as "military personnel and their families."

An unofficial estimate of 200,000 regular residents seems to be fair for the present years. This includes 33,000 Eskimos and Indians. The movement to Alaska is likely to grow as a result of statehood, and the next census may show a population of a quarter of a million. This

Q. What has happened to Sitka?

A. Sitka was the capital city until 1912, when Juneau took its place as the territorial capital. Since then, the importance of Sitka has faded, but it still contains salmon canneries and mining interests.

U. S. Offers to Revamp Land Holding System On Ryukyu Island Chain

Naha, Okinawa — (AP) — The United States offered Wednesday to abandon its controversial system of landholding in the Ryukyu islands for the strongest U. S. military base in the far east if a better system can be found.

Lt. Gen. Donald P. Booth
new U. S. high commissioner for the islands 400 miles east of Red China told Ryukyuan leaders he would meet with them in a few days to seek a new system.

The U. S. system of requisitioning and holding land for its Ryukyuan military bases—mostly on Okinawa—the largest island of the chain—has been the biggest point of dispute between islanders and Americans who have held the Ryukyus since 1945. The islands' economy depends on U. S. wages and other payments.

Booth said that after reviewing the land program Washington was willing to abandon the practice of making only one lump payment for land and to pay annual rentals instead. This had been asked by Ryukyans who also want land values on which the rents are based reappraised every three to five years.

Illinois Tollway to Open in January

Chicago — (AP) — The 187-mile Illinois tollway will be opened by Jan. 1, less than 28 months after ground was broken, Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the state's toll highway commission, said Wednesday.

A 76-mile segment from O'- Hare airport near Chicago to South Beloit will be opened
Aug. 20.

About one million dollars of construction is being done daily, Dearing said.

Lawrence Says:

Arkansas Uses Right as State In Election

People Make Decision About Education in Landslide for Faubus

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Maybe it's a demonstration of Arkansas nationalism we are witnessing — though perhaps stateism is a more fitting word — but for some reason not clearly understood in the north the people of Arkansas, by the biggest landslide in their voting history, have just assured a third term for Gov. Faubus.

Isn't this the man, it will be asked, who "defied the supreme law of the land"? Don't the people of Arkansas know what the "law of the land" is, or have they come to the conclusion that maybe the "law of the land" is what the constitution says it is and not what nine justices say it is? For the Bill of Rights in the constitution does say that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

The people of Arkansas weighed all the arguments and decided to back the constitution as it is written. They had listened for nearly a year to radio and television speeches of abuse and had read many articles in the press telling them they are lawless folks who don't obey the orders of the federal courts. The Arkansas voters had protested in vain that critics in other states were oversimplifying the issue by saying that it was merely "that man Faubus" and a few zealots who were responsible for the crisis in the schools of Arkansas and that, if the present governor were not in office, things would be different.

People Gave Answer
Now the people of Arkansas, in a free and fair election, have given their answer. They have voted by an overwhelming majority — about 70 per cent of all ballots cast — to retain Gov. Faubus. It's a break in tradition to give a third term to a governor in Arkansas. It was, therefore, an electorate deeply stirred which threw precedent aside in order to say to the rest of the states of the union that Arkansas craves the privilege of deciding for itself how it shall educate its children.

For, up to 1954, education was considered to be solely a state problem, with no right to the federal government to assign pupils to public schools much less to send federal troops to police the corridors of school buildings. But, while the su-

Patrolman Searches For Stolen Auto While Thief Takes Patrol Car

Springville, Ariz. — Highway Patrolman William Gregory wasn't sure the motorist he stopped on the highway was a car thief. But he is now.

Gregory, alerted to look for a stolen car, stopped a motorist Tuesday and ordered him into his patrol car while he searched the motorist's auto.

The man stepped into Gregory's car—and drove off. The speedy patrol car was more than a match for the one left behind.

Gregory's car was found abandoned 35 miles away. A search is under way for the motorist.

preme court four years ago vetoed segregation, it has not yet prescribed a formula for integration. Other states beside Arkansas are struggling with the same problem of how to retain control of their schools and yet keep them from being interfered with by the supreme court's edicts.

There wouldn't have been any such rumpus in Arkansas or in any other southern state if the congress, as specifically provided in the 14th amendment, had passed a law compelling desegregation. But for the supreme court suddenly to turn down its own 58-year-old order for "separate but equal" facilities in the schools by terming it now a violation of the 14th amendment — especially since the court itself could not find the slightest bit of history to show that the framers of that amendment intended to take over control of educational systems of the states — is to arouse the people to demand that the "law of the land," namely, the constitution itself, be followed.

Upheld Segregation
It is significant that the two candidates opposing Governor Faubus in the Democratic primary in Arkansas expressed themselves in favor of segregation in the schools, although they differed on how the formula is to be applied.

There is no doubt that the renomination of Governor Faubus in the Democratic primary — which is equivalent to election because there is no effective Republican party in the state — will be regarded in other southern states as encouragement and moral support.

Every southern state would vote on the segregation issue exactly as has Arkansas. The same American liberals who are so quick to recognize as legitimate the aspirations of the Arabs or the Algerians or other nationalities to autonomous rights seem to forget that even in the United States there are aspirations to self-government by units known as "the several states." When the constitution was written, all the people were told that the states were never to be deprived of their sovereignty except under the means prescribed in the constitution itself for amending that document. States' rights have since suffered as the federal government has gradually centralized more and more economic power in Washington. But where questions of sentiment and customs are concerned, the doctrine of states' rights is as live and as virile today as it was when Thomas Jefferson first taught it.

It is time for a more constructive approach to the problem of segregation and integration. It's an issue that can be resolved only by patience, reason and tolerance of lengthy debate—and certainly not by bayonets.

Birds Claim Their Homesites by Song

BY CLARA HUSSONG

Green Bay — "Birds sing because they're happy," is a belief that's been held so long, and expressed in old-time poetry and prose so often, that it's hard to make most people believe otherwise. Or, at least satisfaction - invol-

ed in the situations which prompt the birds' singing. Birds sing most vigorously and continuously in spring when they arrive at their breeding grounds. What have they got to be happy about? Often the weather is still cold and to make most wintry, and food is scarce. Why don't they sing as much in late July and through August? Food of all kinds is most abundant then, the weather is balmy, their young in most cases are safely raised. The bird songs we're talking about are their full songs, which are usually sung only by males — not the alarm calls, the parents' "come and get it" notes to their young, or any of the other chirps and calls which birds use and three sets of young, can be which means something in their language. The chief purpose of song, bird scientists tell us, is the announcement by the singer that this is his territory, and that other birds (of the same species) had better stay away. In this territory, the singer and his chosen mate plan to build their nest and rear their young. The territory is only big enough for his family to live in and to find food.

You've seen this happen often in spring — a male robin sitting at the tip of a tree, or in some other conspicuous spot, singing away. Another male robin comes along and perches on a tree, post or on the ground. Quick as a flash the first robin darts after the intruder, and chases him a block away. Then he resumes his post and starts singing again.

Usually birds of other species are not driven away. They are allowed to stay because their nesting sites, nesting material, and most of all, their food habits are so different. Occasionally there is rivalry over a territory between two similar species.

The singing of the males from the same conspicuous perch or perches continues during the nest-building, incubating and rearing period. When the young are raised, the whole family wanders far afield, and it is no longer necessary to defend a small territory — so the singing lessens — or stops almost entirely.

Birds which raise just one brood a year are the first to stop singing their spring songs. Robins, wrens and mourning doves, which sometimes rear calls which birds use and three sets of young, can be counted on to continue singing through most of the summer. Sometimes rain or wind, cats or other enemies of birds ruin a nestful of eggs or destroy the young. The parents immediately start housekeeping again, and again the male proclaims his territory, and by voice as well as by physical prowess defends his family from intruders of the same species. Late nesters, whether by nature or through ill luck of earlier nests, are not as vigorous singers however. Perhaps it is because by mid-summer birds like purple martins, herons, and bank swallows, look for their food in places often far from their nests, and do not need to defend a territory. They do defend their colony nests, however.

If you listen to bird songs through the rest of the summer — mornings and evenings are best — you'll be able to discover which birds are still at their jobs of nesting and raising their young. You'll find that there aren't too many.

Jill Corey, Songstress

Jill Corey to Star

KD Charity Circle To Bring Musical Comedy to Appleton

"The Boy Friend," sparkling musical comedy set in the Roaring Twenties and starring songstress Jill Corey, will be presented by the KD Charity circle of King's Daughters Sunday evening, March 15, at Appleton High school auditorium.

Announcement of the theater project was made after a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. R. Shannon, 832 E. South street. General chairman is Mrs. R. D. Kewley; her assistant chairman is Mrs. Shannon.

Name Committees
Advertising committee chairman is Mrs. Al Schense; assisting her will be Mrs. James Gustman, Kaukauna; Mrs. Robert Swaby, Mrs. Eugene Garvey, Mrs. Dan Cloud and Mrs. John Conway.

Mrs. Arthur Kuehn is chairman for the program book, with the following women on her committee: Mrs. George Kadow, Mrs. Ed Degenhart, Mrs. John Lindberg, Miss Betty Jane Fosse and Mrs. David Porter.

Mrs. Conway is publicity chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. Whitman, Jr., and Mrs. W. C. Ducklow.

Other Workers
The ticket committee consists of Mrs. Charles de Young, chairman; Mrs. Mary Ann Gelman, Mrs. Thomas Planner, Mrs. D. J. Killoren and Mrs. Don Strutz.

Mrs. James Thielman is chairman of the patrons committee, assisted by Mrs. John Guyette, Mrs. Patrick Coughlin and Mrs. Ed Adam.

Mrs. Robert Lang, Kaukauna, is financial chairman. Mrs. Mmes. Anthony Harrant, W. C. Borsum, first; Arnold Sherry, George E. Peotter, second; W. J. Ferron, C. J. Oberweiser, third, and Richard Radsch, Harold Ornstein, fourth.

Guyette is president of the circle.

Jill Corey, pert 23-year-old star of "The Boy Friend," who will be touring the nation from January through March is widely known through her recordings and television, radio and night club appearances. Recently signed to a movie contract to star with Bob Crosby in "Senior Prom," she has appeared with Robert Q. Lewis, Dave Garraway and on the Hit Parade.

"The Boy Friend," which opened in London in 1953, where it still plays to packed houses, enjoyed a 60-week Broadway run in this country. New York critics dubbed it a "lovely lampoon of jazz - age musical comedies," "a laugh riot," "charming and disarming," and "droll and delightful."

A company of 20 players, three sets and its own orchestra will provide the musical and dramatic background for Miss Corey's appearance.

Charity circle of King's Daughters has among the principal beneficiaries of its projects the child welfare division of the Outagamie county board of public welfare.

'Elbow Grease' Swells Fund of Walther League

A treasury of $101.50 was swelled by $10 when a hard-working crew of Walther league members of Mount Olive Lutheran church put "elbow grease" to work Wednesday to send delegates to the Walther League International convention at Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, Aug. 9-16.

The young people met at the home of league member, Janet Herzfeldt, 1118 W. Oklahoma street, to wash and wax her uncle's car.

Delegates who will attend the party are Helen Behnke, president; Bill Barney, vice president; Dick Reetz, adviser, and Janet, who serves as secretary.

Flight Winners In Fellowship Golf Announced

The Mmes. Harold Baernwald, flight 1, William Marx, flight 2, Clarence Godhardt, flight 3, and Donald Haynes, flight 4, were winners in the Women's Good Fellowship Golf league play on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Godhardt had low putts with a 15. The Mmes. William Hogan, Larry Smock, Thomas McKenny and Keith Buxton golfed with Reid Municipal course pro, Don Bartelt.

Team standings are Flickers, first, Eagles, second, Thrashers and Woodpeckers tied for third, Mudhens, fifth, and Sandpipers, sixth.

Pro Bartelt gave balls to Mrs. Rocklin Gmeiner for low putts and to Mrs. Clarence Zelle for low gross score on July 23 play.

Tell Lady Elks Bridge Winners

North-south winners at the Wednesday afternoon Lady Elks bridge luncheon were the Mmes. Bess Long and Norbert Roemer, first; George Schwab and Edward Schneider, second; Lee Fischer and W. G. Geenen, third; H. J. Weller and Walter Turton, fourth, and G. T. Henger and P. J. Heenan, fifth.

East-west winners were the Mmes. Fred Stip and Margaret Mullen, first; Walter Bell and Rose Plantz, second; Arthur Werner and James Monighan, third; Albert St. Pierre and Charles Rockstroff, fourth, and E. J. Schaer and Miss Emma Voeg, fifth.

At 1:30 next Wednesday afternoon the Lady Elks will hold a business meeting at the Elks club. A bridge party will follow the business session.

Reveal High Scorers in Cards

High scorers at the Veterans of Foreign Wars open card party Wednesday at the VFW Herzfeldt, 1118 W. Oklahoma street, were the Mmes. Ed Glassnap, Lucy Cheslock, Arnold Meyer, Miss Inez Reinke and the Messrs. George Schmidt, Jake Scheller and E. L. Knagge. Another session will be held next Wednesday at the hall.

The Family Scrapbook Brings Back many memories to a mother and her children who were together on Wednesday afternoon at the mother's home for the first time in 42 years. Sister Mary Bernita, OSF, St. Louis, Mo.; her mother, Mrs. John Hermus, 512 S. Walnut street; Sister Mary Margaret, Veghel, Holland; Rudolph Hermus and Mrs. John Vander Sanden, both of Little Chute, held their family gathering Wednesday. Sister Mary Bernita will return to St. Louis Tuesday and Sister Mary Margaret will leave Appleton on Aug. 18 for Veghel. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Family United After 42 Years

Sister Mary Margaret, Veghel, the order in Holland when she was 16 years old. She spent 22 years in the Philippine Islands as a missionary sister, when she was dean of Manila Catholic schools. In that 22 year period she spent 6 months in a concentration camp on the island of Luzon during World War II.

Now she is a college English teacher at the mother house in Veghel. She will leave Appleton on Aug. 18 to return to Holland. Sister Mary Bernita is a cook in the Franciscan order in the United States and Sister Mary Margaret belongs to the Franciscan order in Holland. Sister Mary Margaret entered the order in Holland when she was 16 years old. She spent 22 years in the Philippine Islands as a missionary sister, when she was dean of Manila Catholic schools. BDM Junior High Group Will Hold Record Hop Butte des Morts Golf club members will hold a dance for the junior high school group from 8 to 11 o'clock Friday evening. It will be an informal record hop with a disc jockey providing the music. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trettin are chairmen of the dance committee with Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Abel, Mr. and Mrs. James Van Rooy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spooner, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Max, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crabb and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mulder as committee members.

The junior committee consists of Linda Spooner, Gerry Ornstein, Lynn Trettin, Terry Mulder and James Trettin.

Alabama Visitor Returns Home

The Rev. Alan O'Brian, Missionary Servant of the Most Holy Trinity, Eufaula, Ala., returned home Wednesday evening after a 5-day visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Ryzin, 732 S. Fairview street.

The Rev. Mr. O'Brian and Mr. Van Ryzin met at Great Lakes Naval Training center, Great Lakes, Ill. They had not seen each other in 14 years.

BDM Women Slate 'Guest-Day' Program

Women members of Butte des Morts Golf club have planned a "guest-day" event next Wednesday. Arrangements for the day's program, which will include luncheon, are being arranged by Mrs. Edward Vollmer, chairman. She is being assisted by the Mmes. Edward Brill, Leo Francis, Richard D. Kewley and Robert Martin.

Winners at regular "ladies day" Wednesday at the club included Mrs. Gus Zuehlke, for class A, and Mrs. J. E. McCrary, for class B, both on 18 holes. Combined class A and B winner, nine holes, was Mrs. R. W. Martinek, with Mrs. William Remick scoring for class B, nine holes. Mrs. Donald Bradley and Mrs. H. W. Techlin won for class C, nine holes. Approaches were sunk by the Mmes. R. F. Scherzinger, Zuehlke and E. A. Kalsahs.

Don't Break Leg Filing for Divorce, Ann Tells Young Mother

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm 16, have been married a year and have a baby 8 months old. My husband is 19 and he is insanely jealous of me. He came home from work last week in the middle of the day to check. When he found me alone, he accused me anyway and said "the guy must have ducked out the back door."

The next morning I took the baby and went to live with my aunt. My husband tracked us down and now he's begging me to come back. I've had my fill of him and his filthy mind. I want to get a divorce and start over. What is your advice?—MRS. 16.

Start what over — another hideous mess? Here you are, 16, with a baby 8 months old and an infantile husband to complete the picture. I don't need a blueprint to know that this is the result of two foolish kids who did things in a hurry.

Don't fracture your leg running to the divorce court. The reason you're in this fix is because you rushed into things with no thought of the consequences. You two need a trial separation. Stay apart for a few months, then visit a clergyman or a marriage counselor together and work at making your marriage a success.

DEAR ANN: My husband and I are thinking of having a party for his brother who is going into the army next month. I've been holding back on inviting the guests because every party we've ever given has ended in a drunken brawl with the neighbors calling the cops. Honestly, it's a shame the way some people act when they get around free drinks.

I asked my husband if maybe we shouldn't serve pop, but he said, "No, our friends will think we are cheap."

Please, Ann, don't get the impression our friends are all rough-necks. They are very nice—until liquor is served. If you happen to have a recipe for harmless punch that tastes like it had liquor in it, I would appreciate it. Or shall we just tell them we're not serving liquor and let it go at that—MRS. T W

Sorry, I don't happen to have a recipe for a harmless punch that tastes like it has liquor in it. But I do happen to have a little advice.

People who must get skunk-drunk and wind up in a paddy wagon in order to have a "good time" are not worth entertaining. When you extend the invitation let them know there will be no alcoholic beverages served and those who consider a dry party dull can go to a saloon and get plastered.

DEAR ANN: Please settle an argument between the wife and me. She's one of these women who loves to read medical books and then imagines she has all the sicknesses she reads about. She completed a chapter on polio the other night, and developed a kink in her neck. She was sure she was getting polio and I had to phone our family doctor at midnight and ask him to talk her out of it.

I'm telling you all this so you will know what kind of person she is. Well, she was the happiest woman in town last week — she had an impacted wisdom tooth. Now she monopolizes every conversation with a full report of the extraction, and as you can well imagine, some of the details are sickening.

I've told her this is in poor taste, but she insists people find such things fascinating. She claims I am super-critical of her. How about it?—HYPOCHONDRIAC'S MATE.

People who insist on boring others with details of their aches, pains, operations and dental history are tasteless clods. Also, it's an admission that they are in a state of mental bankruptcy. My condolences—to her friends.

Mrs. M. L. Fillhouer Guest of Honor at Post-Nuptial Shower

A post-nuptial miscellaneous shower honored Mrs. Martin L. Fillhouer, 122 N. Durkee street, on Wednesday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Bernard Davis and Mrs. George Wales, who entertained at the Wales home, 1406 Bartel drive.

Court whist was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Driscoll and Miss Lillian Dörn. Mrs. LaVerne Brooks won the door prize. Mrs. Fillhouer, the former Ruth Christensen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Holm Christensen, 409 W. Eighth street. She was married on July 21.

In Good Taste Newcomer Told to Join Church Unit

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow and have just recently moved to a large city in order to take a position. Having lived in a small town all my life where everyone was very friendly, I find the people here very cold and aloof and I am terribly lonely. Will you please tell me how I, as a stranger, can go about meeting people without being considered a pusher? I would appreciate it so very much if you could help me.

Answer: The best move you can make is to go to the church of your denomination and join some of the activities. You cannot possibly go often without finding a few people who are friendly. Further than this, you could join the Red Cross or some other organization or club that specializes in something you are particularly interested in. Through this you will surely meet others with similar interests.

Usually Invited
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to invite the wife of the officiating clergyman to a house wedding, where the guest list is limited to the immediate families and fewest friends of the bride and groom? The ceremony will be followed by a buffet supper.

Answer: Under usual circumstances she is always included. But if the wedding is very small and she happens to be unknown to you, it would not be considered discourteous to have the clergyman remain alone after the ceremony.

Decorations Only
Dear Mrs. Post: When chops are served with paper frills, does this mean that they may be picked up and eaten in the is near good table manners, fingers? except at a picnic, to pick up Answer: Paper frills are sole any sort of meat in the fin- ly for decoration to cover the ger — whether it be a chop, a end of a bone that is ugly. It, chicken wing or the drumstick.

Yves Saint-Laurent Takes Paris By Surprise; Drops Hem 5 Inches

Paris — Yves Saint-Laurent today lowered the hemline, by several inches—to about 15 inches from the floor.

Saint-Laurent's hemline was up to five inches lower than those of other Paris fashion houses whose fall and winter collections have been shown so far. Their skirts have cleared the floor by as much as 20 inches.

The house of Dior's new "curve" line curves both shoulders and skirts. The silhouette is short-waisted but not truly empire.

Surprised Other Houses
A 5-inch drop in length caught every other major house with skirts hiked up to the knee. The difference in the Dior mid-calf length is enough to look revolutionary—especially as it is combined with an entirely new shape.

The Saint-Laurent silhouette is of perfectly rounded medium fullness caught in with unpressed folds or pleats by a belt a couple of inches below the bustline.

Little Empire Effect
It has little or nothing in common with the high-waisted, short-skirted empire line seen everywhere else this season.

It looks as if young Saint-Laurent, having tasted success with his first collection last spring, wants to show who is master of the mode.

If he succeeds in pulling skirts down, there can be no further question.

Applause, which started early in the showing, broke out time and again and swelled to an uproar at the end of the show.

"Curve" Line
The "curve" line appeared first in a suit. The jackets were scooped up in front with the skirts standing off the hips and curving gently in at the mid-calf hemline.

Cape coats covered matching dresses in the same silhouette but by cocktail clothes time, some skirts had dwindled down to slender tubes just ample enough not to touch the body while others swelled out in puff balls.

For the evening, Saint-Laurent really puts on the dog with bejeweled velvet birdcage skirts fit to sweep the floor of a Venetian palace and bearing such proud names as Dogess, Emir and Sultana.

Necklines Plunge

Necklines are so low-scooped that they cut Dior's star mannequin out of the parade. Exotic Alla, watching from the audience said she was too thin to wear the new décolletage, which is revealing indeed. As one spectator remarked: "If you wear that, you'd better not sneeze."

But if Saint-Laurent pulled the rug out from under the competition on hem lengths, he at least put the royal stamp of approval on black, already remarked as the season's top color. Whole sections of the Dior show were as black as a funeral.

Embroidered Formals
When the mood lightened, it was with blazing red, intense rose, sapphire blues, gold lame and a range of Victorian pastels, like dove grey, silver beige, bronze and sage green.

There were so many formals embroidered all over with jewels that they must have kept an army of seamstresses stitching for months.

The audience even saw—for the first time—a Dior creation that was only half finished—a pink satin formal coat and the back in canvas, with the embroidery design outlined in pencil.

Saint-Laurent, who has just been announced as the winner of this year's Neiman-Marcus fashion award, called one of his best day dresses "Dallas." It was in grey wool with the signature silhouette.

Heavy velvet woollens were

Family Sets Last Gathering

The last annual event of the Rohm family has been scheduled for Sunday at Erb park, with family members assembling for the 37th consecutive year.

Pioneers have been asked to bring a basket luncheon for noon; with ham and rolls to be served by the committee. Mr. and Mrs. Florian Hemrich are in charge of refreshments.

About 70 are expected to attend the outing. The oldest family members will be honored, including Mrs. John Colburn, Madison, S.D., and her brother, Robert W. Rohm, Appleton.

Participants will represent Madison, Milwaukee, Menominee Falls, Seymour, New London, Waupaca, Appleton and South Dakota.

A group of 80 turned out for the Kraft family reunion July 13 at Telulah park. It was the family's fifth yearly meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kraft, Kimberly, were in charge of arrangements.

Directing next year's outing will be Mrs. Elizabeth Kraft and her family of Kaukauna.

Wells in Four Parks Tested; Water Found Safe for Drinking

Each of the four city-owned wells still operating has been tested and found to contain safe drinking water, Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch said.

The wells are in Erb, City, Pierce and Alicia parks. Samples were taken by City Sanitarian Ed Halvorsen twice earlier this year. After each time, William U. Gallaher, water plant superintendent, tested them.

A crack was found in the Erb park well and a cementing job is recommended. The crack in no way affects the water, Greisch said.

Water from the Alicia park well, while safe, was very

Colors for Redheads

To look as striking as she is, hair coloring. Ideal selections a redhead must choose her clothing colors with an artist's eye for harmony. Otherwise, clashes are bound to ensue. And not so much to the detriment of the colors as to their wear.

For an ideal palette, a redhead must first analyze her skin tone. Is it lily white or bluish-white? Is it creamy or pinkish? Whatever the verdict, the choice of clothing colors revolves around it and not as many believe, on the depth of

Former Attorney for Al Capone Suspected Of Issuing Bad Check

Beverly Hills, Calif. — Al Capone has been arrested on suspicion of issuing a worthless $100 check.

Abraham Teitelbaum was arrested at his Beverly Hills home Wednesday night on the complaint of a market manager who said he cashed the check.

NEW! a Meat and Vegetable Dish for Baby WITH 3 TIMES* THE MEAT

High Meat Dinners

Something new and different in the way of a taste surprise — something extra in the way of nutrition. Gerber's Strained and Junior High Meat Dinners are especially savory because they're flavor-packed with lots of juicy meat — 3 times as much as regular Vegetable and Meat Combinations. Add to this extra meat selected vegetables and cereal and you have an increased and varied assortment of proteins, vitamins and minerals — all in one main dish.

Quality tested! After 2 years of development and testing in the Gerber laboratories, these exclusive Gerber's High Meat Dinners were tested by hundreds of mothers and babies. An overwhelming majority of mothers noticed and were delighted with the extra meat. All the babies enjoyed the rich, savory, meat-y flavors.

And isn't it good to know that you can serve your baby all this nourishing goodness so easily — and economically, because everything is right there in one delicious dish? 4 Strained varieties for babies. 4 Junior (minced) varieties for tots who can chew!

Babies are our business...our only business!

Long and Short Curtain Ideas

High fashion curtains in new decorator designed rooms are long, or they're short, but they share a taste for fine finishes and detail.

Cornices and valances are more often seen now as elegant top-off treatments for straight-hanging long curtains—plain tops that have been favorites so long begin to be hidden again. The soft swag-like draping of the Austrian shade flecks light and shadow on the room that's quite different from the usual long folds.

The cornice sketched is gently padded, notched at its lower edge and decorated with soft button-down straps of the same fabric that covers it. Narrow wallpaper border finishes the frameless opening of the window with the be-tasseled Austrian curtains, continues to define a dado level and also creates the effect of a ceiling molding. But long and short curtains, however dainty and intricately made, take a stand for easy care and long wear.

Both of these are of Dacron polyester casement cloths.

Our Children

Meals for Young Fry Can Be Served Attractively

BY ANGELO PATRI

The small child in the high chair looked at the plate offered him, screwed his face into knots, screamed his loudest and kicked his hardest.

"Now what's the matter," asked his anxious mother hovering over him and holding a spoon as close to his mouth as she could manage while he turned his head this way and that to dodge it.

I thought of Milne's verses: "What is the matter with Liza Jane? There's lovely rice pudding for supper, again."

I was obliged to eat pureed vegetables and chewed-up food, day after day, meal after meal and the nurse saying, "Make believe it is chicken breasts under glass." My imagination did not extend that far. All I could see was that drab mess on my plate; all I could taste was that flat nothingness. It could be the little one felt that way too.

One needs an appetite for food if one is to eat it with pleasure and pleasure in eating is important to its nourishing value, something busy home cooks can forget when preparing food for the children.

Of course the younger children have to eat pureed foods for a time. But they can be made attractive if one makes an effort. Color helps, a good smell helps and a pretty plate and a shiny spoon can make all the difference.

A variety in the menu is helpful because it is exciting. What is for supper tonight? means expectation, an eagerness to learn what treat is in store, and that makes for pleasure in the whole idea. If the same "old rice pudding" appears all the fun of the occasion vanishes.

Color is a great stimulus to appetite. Too often the small child's vegetables lack that and the colorless blotch on a colorless plate makes little appeal to him. Vegetables can be cooked so as to preserve both their color and taste if the cook but that there is little to sharpen

Thomson Raps Tax Plan of Nelson

By the Associated Press
Gov. Vernon Thomson said Wednesday night the tax proposals of his Democratic opponent are "like hitting a man over the head with a club and then asking him if you have hurt him."

Thomson made the comment at a speech in River Falls. He, like Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate, is unopposed in the September primary.

Thomson said Nelson's idea of asking the voters to elect him so he can begin studying tax problems "is unique." He said Nelson would levy a surtax, and then begin his study.

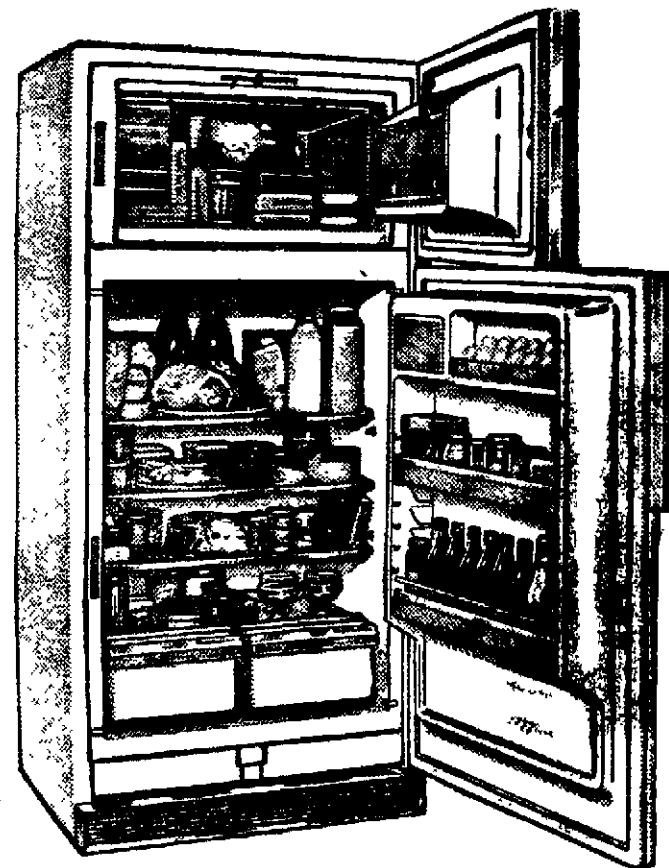

are a lovely green and may be served on a pink plate, beside a fluffy baked potato on whose crust rides a bit of golden butter.

Hungry children will eat almost anything, but many of our younger ones are not hungry, that is they have scant appetite. They are indoors so long and have so little hard exercise, so little crisp fresh air, so little to sharpen their appetites.

Alaska Takes To Radio, TV

Long Winter Nights Makes Even Delayed Material Popular

BY HOWARD BENEDICT AP News Features Writer

New York —(AP)— Long winter nights and a shortage of other entertainment have helped make radio and television a lively, growing business in Alaska, although it is cut off electronically from the 48 states.

Roy V. Smith, president of Alaska Radio and TV Sales in New York, reports that 80 per cent of Alaskan families have television sets and 95 per cent own radios. Improved television facilities are expected to boost the TV figure when statehood becomes a reality.

"Alaska is a natural for radio and television," says Smith. "Winter stays around from September to April 1, and six months out of the year it's dark by 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Except for movies and an occasional dance, there isn't much other entertainment."

No Coaxial Cable

There is no coaxial cable or microwave relay linking Alaska with the United States, so programming of all three major networks (ABC, CBS, NBC) is recorded or filmed and brought in by plane for showing on the average of two weeks after it is seen state-

Red Cross Needs Volunteers for Hospital Work

The Outagamie County Red Cross chapter is looking for about 15 women from the Kaukauna, Little Chute, Combined Locks and Kimberly area to serve as Gray Ladies at Riverview hospital.

According to Miss Kathryn Osborn, executive secretary, volunteers will go through an orientation session after which they will be assigned to their duties. Those interested may contact the Red Cross office.

She said Riverview Gray Ladies will write letters for pawhen statehood is achieved, many advertisers will reassign Alaska from the foreign to the domestic budget, with a greater outlay. ABC Film syndication, which has sold 560 filmed shows in the territory in the last three years, already has taken this step.

Alaskans now can tune in seven radio stations in five cities and five TV stations in three cities. Seventy-five per cent of the broadcasting time is filled by delayed network material. The rest is filled by local programs similar to what U.S. residents are used to — news, weather, homemaking and public service programs, along with special coverage of such events as the annual dog sled race, the breaking up of the ice and a few broadcasts in Eskimo and Indian languages.

First Show Tonight 17-Member Cast to Perform In 3-Act Play, 'The Drunkard'

Neenah — A 3-act melodrama, "The Drunkard", will be presented by the Riverside Players at 8:30 this evening at the Riverside park pavilion. Two more performances will be held at the same time on Friday and Saturday nights.

A cast of 17 will take part in the third production of the summer. Ken Anderson is director and Mrs. Clarence Brendick, assistant director.

"The Drunkard", written by William H. Smith, was called "the Methuselah of melodramas" by the Associated Press in a feature article several weeks ago. It was first produced by P. T. Barnum as a "moral lecture" in his Philadelphia museum in 1844. The windy exposition and the obviously black or white, very good or very bad character of the people involved make the play seem more humorous than moral to a modern audience.

Salt Water Taffy

The costumes in tonight's production will be similar to those worn in the 1800's. Prizes, including salt water taffy, will be awarded between the acts.

Popular Victorian songs, one of the more costly and which will be sung during the time consuming tasks, he said.

production include "She May Have Seen Better Days", "Letter Edged in Black", "My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon", and "Up in the Balloon, Boys."

One of the cast members whose name was omitted in a previous Post-Crescent story about the play was Susan Stier, 10, who will play Julia Middleton.

Tickets can be purchased at the recreation building and from members of the cast. Prices are 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children.

Menasha Library Book Fines Increase to 2 Cents on Friday

Menasha — On Friday the Elisha D. Smith Public library will begin charging 2 cents a day on overdue books. Librarian Marvin Melick said today. The change from 1 cent a day fines was necessitated because of the increase in postal rates and cost of secretarial help.

It is hoped the fine increase would facilitate the return of books on time, thus eliminating one of the more costly and which will be sung during the time consuming tasks, he said.

County Agent Lists Tips to Prevent Fires

Urges Checking Of Hay Mows to Avoid Combustion

Oshkosh — Several recent barn fires in local communities emphasize that all possible precautions should be taken to eliminate the cause, County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky said today.

The agent declared that it is possible that spontaneous combustion in hay mows or first crop hay may be the cause of some of these recent fires. He suggests that mows which are heating excessively be checked for temperature in order to avoid spontaneous combustion.

The caution point is 150 degrees Fahrenheit and a hay mow reaching that temperature in the central most point needs to be checked frequently he reported. If the temperature raises to 190 degrees, the hay should be soaked with water and removed from the mow.

A temperature of 230 degrees indicates danger of explosion and hay should be thoroughly soaked before removal from storage.

F. V. Burcalow, extension agronomist from the University of Wisconsin, has been in correspondence with the county agent and cautioned that extreme temperatures may indicate burned out cavities in a mow. Two people should work together as a safety factor in the event of a cave-in, he suggested.

Spontaneous combustion, according to the county agent, results from too much moisture in the hay. This rapid fermentation causes much heat. In a large mow, the heat is retained, causing a rapid rise of temperature.

Bacteria Killed

Bacteria are killed at 150 degrees. Charring will begin to take place at about 230 degrees. Spontaneous combustion usually occurs from four to six weeks after the hay is stored but it may occur sooner.

A hay mow may be checked for temperature by inserting a pipe downward into the heart of the mow. The lead pipe may be set with a steel point, or even a hardwood point will suffice. Couple on additional pipes as necessary to reach the heart of the mow, the agent pointed out.

The pipe should be of the size to accommodate a high temperature thermometer, such as a candy or cooking thermometer. The thermometer is dropped down into the pipe on a line of cord and should remain there for temperature checking as frequently as necessary.

The local fire department should be warned if the danger point temperatures are reached.

Assigns Estate Of Neenah Man

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — The $38,632 net estate of the late John E. Jones of Neenah, who died March 30, 1957, was ordered assigned to his widow Tuesday by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller. The estate included $21,000 in real estate and the balance in personal property and jointly-owned property.

Truck Spills Ice Cream Into Hy. 110 Ditch

Driver Hurt in Attempt to Avoid Collision With Car

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Ice cream packages went spilling into the ditch and onto a nearby farmer's field when a Borden company semi-trailer driven by Charles A. Davis, Waukesha, turned over in a ditch on Highway 110, 2 1/2 miles south of Winchester, at 4:24 this morning.

Davis told police an oncoming car, lit only by parking lights, was headed toward his truck. The driver of the other car then turned on his lights and swung back into his own lane, he said.

Davis stated he swerved to avoid a collision but lost control of the truck and went into the ditch, sheering off 87 feet of barbed wire on the Howard Sorenson farm, clipping off a power pole and damaging a guard rail on a small bridge.

He was taken to Theda Clark hospital at Neenah in a county squad car and was treated for a laceration of the left hand and abrasion of the right arm, leg and chin. The dairy firm sent another truck to salvage what it could of the scattered ice cream cartons.

Twin City Accidents

Two cars were slightly damaged in two separate accidents in the Twin Cities Wednesday.

A car driven by Alfred Weitz, 35, 4041 Caroline street, Neenah, was damaged when it ran into the rear end of a car driven by Phillip Schweitzer, 39, 124 Irene street, Neenah. The crash occurred on the Racine street bridge at 7:50 in the morning.

The left front door and both fenders on a car owned by Warren J. Boushley, 33, 120 Fourth street, Neenah, were damaged when struck by a car driven by Dorothy L. Marble, 304 Smith street, Neenah, at 8:57 in the evening. The Marble car was going north on First street while the Boushley auto was parked on First street.

Rural Menashan Fined

Chilton — John Burke, 24, route 2, Menasha, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct when he appeared before Herman F. Jodar, justice of the peace.

Testing of Neenah's New 1,000 gallon pumper was conducted at Shattuck park Wednesday by the Fire Insurance Rating bureau of Milwaukee. The truck, found to be in perfect running order, will be housed in the new west side branch fire station at Cecil and Harrison streets. Watching the truck in operation are

Neenah Scows to Be Measured Prior To ILYA Regatta

Neenah — Neenah Nodaway Yacht club officials have announced that Dan Schuck, official measurer for the Inland Lakes Yachting association, will be in Neenah on Monday, August 11, to measure the Neenah boats that will compete in the ILYA regatta to be held here Aug. 18 to 22.

Schuck will work through the lunch hour from 12 o'clock to 1:30 because he anticipates that a number of skippers may only be available during that time. The measuring will take place at the dock at Riverside park. It is one of the numerous preparations for the annual class A, C, D. and E scow regatta, last held here six years ago.

Slate Water Show In Winneconne

Winneconne — Children participating in the swimming program this year will present a water show in the near future, announced Red Cross swimming directors Mary Ellen Baugrud and Lyle Muller.

There will be various stunts in the water and demonstrations of the different forms of swimming and water games. Cards will be presented in the students who have passed the various tests throughout the season.

Four movies supplied by the Red Cross on swimming and boating were recently viewed by the swimmers. At the close of the season instructors will direct the preparation for an Indian ceremonial.

Plant Accident

Menasha — Edward Wege, 1, Hortonville, was slightly injured when a pile of bales Jr., 878 Marquette street, Menasha, fell on top of him while he was working at the Menasha Wood-son Ware plant at 9:35 Wednesday. Columbus, Ohio, to Mr. and day night. He was taken to Mrs. John G. Selig. He is the Theda Clark hospital by the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Neenah ambulance and was released this morning.

Garbage, Trash Pickup Procedure Clarified

Public Works Director Explains New System In Answer to Several Inquiries by Citizens

Neenah — The procedure for garbage and rubbish collections was clarified today by Wayne Bryan, public works director, in reply to several recent inquiries from citizens.

Garbage is collected on Monday and Thursday in the First, Third, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards and on Tuesday and Friday in the Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards, he explained. There has been no change in rubbish routes.

"Garbage is still picked up at the rear of the home or on the terrace if the property owner er wishes to place it on the terrace," Bryan stated.

Combustible rubbish is picked up on the same days as the garbage but must be placed in containers on the curb. Brush must be in containers or tied in bundles not exceeding two feet in diameter and four feet in length.

Rubbish Items

Only non-combustibles, such as tin cans, glass and metal are picked up on rubbish collection days. The rubbish must be in containers of a size, shape and weight that one man can conveniently handle them.

Products such as broken plaster, roofing, boards, broken cement, earth, and stone are not considered household rubbish and are not picked up by city crews, Bryan said.

Because they might explode in the incinerator, unpopped or non-punctured aerosol cans used for whipped cream and insecticides and shotgun or rifle shells are not to be placed in company with put up an $18,000 home and attached garage

Questions relative to the garage on Bellin street while Builders, bage and rubbish collection Inc., will erect a $17,500 home changes will be answered by and attached garage on Reid calling the city garage, he said.

Union Heads to Hold Dinner

National Officer To Meet With 16 Local Presidents

Menasha — Presidents of 16 unions affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers will meet with the area vice president, Elmer P. Meinz, St. Cloud, Minn., at a dinner meeting at Club Terrace this evening.

Edward A. Zeininger, international representative, said the unions involved are located in mills at Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Combined Locks and Kaukauna.

Meinz has charge of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Upper Michigan.

Neenah to Have Two More Homes

Neenah — Two home permits authorized this morning bring the year's total to 112. Carlton Williams, building inspector, announced.

The E. and R. Construction company will put up an $18,000 home and attached garage on Bellin street while Builders, bage and rubbish collection Inc., will erect a $17,500 home changes will be answered by and attached garage on Reid calling the city garage, he said.

It's New At HERMENE'S

A new cocktail hibachi, or fire bowl, is designed for heating hors d'oeuvres and other tasty tidbits speared on bamboo or wooden picks.

Resembling the larger braziers used in Japanese homes for heating and cooking, this miniature modern version is made of cast iron, with an adjustable draft door. The handles and base are of matching hardwood.

To use the hibachi: Remove the inside liner, place a cotton pad on the bottom of the bowl, replace the liner, and put a briquet on the slotted grate. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons of canned heat, top with another briquet, and ignite. The resulting slow, steady flame will last for about half an hour.

The hibachi is 4 inches high and 4 inches in diameter. It is attractively packaged with 100 slender bamboo cocktail sticks, each 4 inches long. Easy to follow instructions are included. Teen-agers and adults alike will find the hibachi an asset in entertaining. The price of it is $4.

Awards Given 2 Former UW Center Pupils

Patricia Randall,
Eleanor Kraft are Recipients of $300

Menasha — Two former University of Wisconsin Menasha extension students have received $300 awards from the university. They are Patricia Randall, daughter of Mrs. George Randall, 413 Eleventh street, Neenah, and Eleanor Kraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Kraft, 1727 N. Erb street, Appleton.

Miss Randall, who completed one year at the Menasha extension last year, was granted the Class of 1902 scholarship. She will attend the Madison campus next year and plans to become a medical technician.

Miss Randall's scholarship was made on the basis of her academic promise and her contribution to student life. She is Still No Action on Goldfine's Citation

Washington — The house commerce committee discussed possible contempt of congress action against Bernard Goldfine for about an hour today but recessed without taking action.

Indications were the committee would vote late today on the question of citing the Boston textile-real estate man for his refusal to answer some two dozen questions put to him by an investigating subcommittee.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) told newsmen when the committee recessed that there was little disagreement expressed, "but members want to be informed, there are a lot of questions and as you know it is a long (hearing) record."

employed at the First National Bank of Neenah this summer. Eleanor Kraft received a $300 award for having the highest grade point average in her senior pharmacy school class. She attended the Menasha extension one year, receiving a plus in every course.

Fall Program Plans Were Outlined at a Tuesday evening meeting of the Lakeview school Parent-Teachers association officers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles St. Pierre, Rainbow Beach, co-presidents of the unit. From left to right are Robert Bell, school principal, Mrs. Joseph Cowling, treasurer, Charles St. Pierre and Mrs. Edward Hill, vice president. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Friends Entertain For Miss Holloran

Menasha — Several recent bridal showers have been held honoring Miss Kathleen Holloran, daughter of Mrs. Agnes Holloran, 339 Cleveland street, who will be married Aug. 9 to Eugene Losselyong at St. Mary Catholic church.

On June 30, 50 guests attended a miscellaneous shower at the Menasha Eagles hall given by Mrs. William Heiman, Mrs. Merlin Moderson and Mrs. Arnold Schmalz.

Prize winners were Mrs. Clem Salentine, Mrs. Francis McGuire, Mrs. Ted McAarty, Mrs. Gordon Baehman and Miss Betty Kersten.

Miss Mary Huelsbeck, route 2, Menasha, was hostess at a linen shower on July 15 and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ronald Kuchenbecker, Mrs. Clyde Van Dymhoven, Miss Janet Bunker and the bride-elect.

Hostesses at a coin and can shower July 21 at their home, 31 Main street, were Mrs. Clarence Noel and Mrs. Alvina Tullis, the bride's aunts. Present were 35 guests and prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Spang, Mrs. Russell Webb, Mrs. Joseph Roth and Mrs. Anton Bevers.

A miscellaneous shower was given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Donald Konitzer and Mrs. Eugene Piette at the latter's home, 308 Cecil street, Neenah. Attending were 12 friends of Miss Holloran and prizes were won by Mrs. Al De Koch, Miss Carol Stelow, Miss Evelyn Kersten and the bride-elect.

Mary Ann Steidl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Steidl, 212 Milwaukee street, was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening at the Union hall in Kaukauna. About 50 guests were present at the event given by Mrs. Robert Cox, the bridegroom's mother.

On Aug. 18 Miss Steidl will be married to Patrick Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cox of Kaukauna in a ceremony at St. John Catholic church.

St. John school hall was the setting for a coin and can shower on July 14 given by Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Elmer Smith and Mrs. Edward Gajewski. About 50 guests attended the pre-nuptial event.

Bible Class

Neenah — The Ever Ready Bible class of the First Methodist church will meet for a luncheon at 12:15 Monday afternoon at Riverside park.

Marathon Women To Hold Jamboree At DePere Club

Menasha — Marathon division women employees will hold a golf jamboree Saturday at the Town and Country club in De Pere. Tee off time will be from 10 o'clock until 2:30 with a dinner to be served at 6 o'clock.

Committee members include the Misses Jeanne Barker and Kathryn Mattern, entertainment; the Misses Theresa Bertagnoli and Joan Alferi, publicity; and Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer and Miss Barbara Endter, prizes.

Twin City TOPS Lists Winners

Menasha — Winners in the recent weight losing contest of the Twin City TOPS club were Mrs. Donald Hruska and Mrs. Hugo Salm. Mrs. Paul Grall was the best loser of the week and Mrs. George Fahrback was a prize winner.

Former Students At Extension Receive Honors

Menasha — Several former students at the University of Wisconsin Extension division were active at the Madison campus during the previous year. Initiates into Phi Kappa Phi were Eleanor Kraft, Richard McCrory and Thomas Vaughan and seniors honored at the all-university honors convocation were Charles Merbs, Roy Bartz, James Kositzke, Thomas Schommer, Thomas Vaughan and Miss Barbara Endter, prizes.

New members of Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary commerce fraternity, are Thomas Schommer, Roy Wiesenweber and Thomas Vaughan. Weisenweber also received the Beta Gamma Sigma award.

Mary Lee Miller was awarded the Pan-Hellenic scholarship at the annual senior swing-out.

Use Low-Calorie Dressing for Fruit Salads

Oshkosh — With the wide selection of berries, cherries, grapes, peaches and other fruits on the market, fruit salads are both refreshing and economical choices for summer menus. For calorie counters, Miss Lois Klumeyer, county home agent, suggests using a fruit salad dressing that has only 10 calories per tablespoon.

The recipe requires one minced clove garlic, one-fourth cup vinegar, one-half cup orange juice, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one teaspoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Let the garlic stand in vinegar for one hour. Strain and add the rest of the ingredients, shaking or beating well. Refrigerate and shake again before using. The recipe makes about one cup of dressing.

ULCW Plans Potluck Picnic

Menasha — The United Lutheran Church women of St. Timothy Lutheran church will meet at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening for a potluck picnic at the home of Mrs. William Herziger, Park street.

Names for circle groups which will meet during the coming season will be drawn and plans for the general meeting Sept. 2 will be discussed. Guest speakers at that meeting will be the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Law, who served as missionaries in India.

Kentucky Trip

Menasha — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huelsbeck, route 2, Menasha, returned Monday from Lyndon, Ky., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Bishop, and family.

Guest Program, Welfare Study, Las Vegas Workshop on LWV Calendar

Neenah — The League of Women Voters of Neenah-Menasha program calendar for the 1958-59 year was submitted by Mrs. Karl Forsgren, program chairman, at the Monday evening LWV board meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Werner, 328 Park drive. A "League Day Program" scheduled for Sept. 8 will open the year's activities. Participating in the first event, which is open to the entire league membership, will be Mrs. Ralph H. Wenberg and Mrs. Smiley Boyd, who are the new president and vice president, respectively, of the state league. Mrs. Aaron Ihde, state adviser for the local league, also will take part in the panel. Further preparations will be announced later.

the chairmanship of Mrs. William Burger and Miss Agnes Wooderick. Preparations are underway by the voters service committee for the gathering of material on the Sept. 9 primary election. Questionnaires are being prepared to be sent to candidates. Mrs. Ralph Risley is chairman of the committee.

A study of the county welfare department under the "Know Your County" agenda item, will be the subject of October unit meetings. Mrs. John Teeple is chairman of the study and her committee includes Mrs. C. G. R. Johnson, Mrs. Joseph Turley, Mrs. A. T. Hudson, Mrs. L. W. Zabel, Mrs. Charles Schueppert, Mrs. W. J. Dowling, Mrs. Kenneth Peterson and Mrs. D. R. Beaman. A water conservation workshop has been scheduled for the November meeting under Workshop. A reception at the Royal Palms Inn was attended by the bridegroom's parents, the bride's mother and several California relatives of the couple.

The Little Church of the West Las Vegas, Nev., was the setting for the evening rites performed by the Rev. Thomas J. Daley. Miss Valerie Noll, Los Angeles, Calif., served as maid of honor and Dudley Noll, San Diego, Calif., was the best man.

October Rites Are Planned by Mary Schoultz

Menasha — Mr. and Mrs. Albin Schoultz, 745 Tayco street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Francis Lemley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lemley, Sr., Marengo, Iowa.

A graduate of St. Mary High school, the bride-elect is an employee of the Marathon division of the American Can company while her fiancé is stationed with the air force at O'Hare field, Park Ridge, Ill.

An Oct. 18 ceremony at St. Mary Catholic church is planned.

Masonic Picnic Is Scheduled

Menasha — Menasha chapter, Order of the Eastern Star and Menasha Masons will hold a picnic from 2 until 7 o'clock Sunday at Smith park. Picnic arrangements are being made by Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Luebben.

The OES chapter will hold its first meeting of the fall season, Sept. 9, when past matrons and past patrons will be honored.

Traveler Group Will Meet at Menasha Park

Menasha — Smith park will be the setting for the fall round-up of the southern group of councils of the United Commercial Travelers of America Saturday morning and afternoon. Representatives and officers of the 12 councils will meet at 10 o'clock at the Memorial building with a family picnic scheduled for noon. The northern district will meet two weeks later in Marshfield.

Grand officers, who will attend the Menasha session, include W. W. Taylor, grand councilor, Green Bay; Charles Ayers, grand secretary, Fond du Lac; Lee Watts, grand treasurer, Madison; Harold Peterson, grand conductor, Janesville; and Al Hestikind, supreme promotional director, Columbus, Ohio. Rod Robinson, Menasha, is the state grand promotional director. Representatives will attend

Oshkosh Girl Becomes Bride In New York City

Oshkosh — Carol Joy Leibenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Leibenson, 2062 Menominee drive, was married July 24 in New York city to Neal Gersten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gersten of New York.

A graduate of Oshkosh High school, the bride attended the Tobie Coburn School of Fashion Design, New York city, and her husband is a certified public accountant with Fred C. Sanders and Associates in New York.

The couple will make their home on Long Island.

Anna Mae Montonati, Wed In Ceremony at Norfolk

Menasha — In a double ring ceremony preceding a 9:30 nuptial mass Saturday at the N.A.S. Chapel of the Immaculate Conception in Norfolk, Va., Miss Anna Mae Montonati became the bride of William Dean Madory, Y.N. 2nd class.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Montonati, 701 London street, and Harold Madory and Mrs. Maxwell James, both of Kenton, Ohio. Honor attendant for her sister was Miss Rosemary Montonati and Gerald Bromen, Norfolk, served as best man. A family brunch followed the ceremony at the Nansmond hotel in Virginia Beach.

Ike's Prestige Falls At Increasing Rate

Democrats Resolved to Keep Quiet In Face of Middle Eastern Crisis

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — President Eisenhower's prestige is falling at a frightening rate. It is declining in part because of his actions. But in part the thrust downward is a result of a storm of public and press criticism blowing in the worst possible circumstances and at the worst possible times.

His moral authority in this country and the rest of the world is being cut down as unreasonably over the Middle East crisis of 1958 as it was unreasonably inflated in the Middle East crisis of 1956.

There are beginning to be ominous parallels with the last two years of the Truman administration. Then, unrestrained attacks upon the White House all but destroyed presidential power to move rationally in the Korean conflict.

Now, similar attacks upon President Eisenhower are limiting his ability to act, with any sure confidence, for American interests in the Middle East. The really vital question is not whether the president is going to move wisely; it is whether he is going to be able to move at all.

Democrats are far from enchanted with the president. They have every determination to wrest the White House from the Republicans. They prefer, however, to run the campaign of 1960 in 1960 and not now, in 1958 and in the middle of a world crisis.

Many Blunders

They are the first to point out the administration has, indeed, made many grave blunders. They are the first to say the public disillusionment now beating about the president is the inevitable reaction from the extreme public adulation of the past so carefully fostered by his backers. For the man who is given credit for the sunshine will later be blamed for the rain.

But, having said all these things, these Democrats have other things to say. And some of them are:

That many critics of the president's intervention in the Middle East properly stress its awkwardness and danger but forget that but for this intervention an admittedly bad situation would be far worse.

That in times of national peril there are two kinds of criticisms — one being constructive and needed and the other merely panicky and harmful and, though entirely constitutional, entirely unwise for persons holding high responsibilities.

That in foreign affairs there can be only one president of the United States at a time — good, bad, or indifferent — and one voice for this country abroad.

That the present president of the United States is still going to be president of the United States until January, 1961.

No Hacking

That since this is inconceivable so, no matter how inept his notes to the Kremlin may sound to some, it will surely do little good to hack him down in the eyes of the outer world by presenting the spectacle of the most articulate part of a whole country up in arms against him.

At this point they are resolved to create no human break with the president — whatever his mistakes or his weaknesses — so wide and so bitter as was created by the Republicans in congress when President Truman (and the United States of America) was desperately engaged in Korea.

For it is possible that Demo-

Former Head of Children's Home Feted at Gathering

Winneconne — Marvin Dubbe, Cornwallis, Ore., former superintendent of the Children's Country home in Winneconne, and his wife and two daughters were honored at a gathering at the county park Tuesday evening. Dubbe, who directed the home from 1934 to 1943, is presently engaged in teaching and writing.

Mrs. Dubbe has been engaged as a music co-ordinator in the music departments of several schools. They are now en route to Muncie, Ind., where they will visit her mother and then will go to New York city where Dubbe will enroll at an institute workshop at Bard college.

The Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Klein and children have returned to their home in Cicero, Ill., after vacationing with Mrs. Klein's parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Lovik, Winneconne.

Young people attending the Central Baptist camp at Crooked Lake this week are Susan Day, Jim and Mary Nickle, Vicky and Sandy Wills, Terry Wiley, David Craig, Joan Seelow, and Jack McGinnis.

Pleads Guilty Of Non-Support

Oshkosh — Frank J. Marketti, 41, Chicago, Ill., this morning pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger to two counts of non-support of his wife, Maida Marketti, Neenah, and six minor children ranging in age from 3 to 16 years.

She charged he had deserted her in December of 1955 and was not heard of until April of this year when it was learned he was working in Chicago. Extradition proceedings were begun in April and he was returned Wednesday by Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber and a deputy sheriff who accompanied Mrs. Marketti to Chicago to identify Marketti.

Marketti had contended he was not her husband and that it was a case of mistaken identity during the extradition proceedings. Judge Luchsinger postponed proceedings to 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and ordered him committed to the county jail without bond. She had been granted a divorce from bed and board July 13, 1956.

Menasha Man Pleads Innocent in Court On Traffic Charge

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Reginald W. Baldwin, 52, 928 Second street, Menasha, this morning pleaded innocent of making a left turn from the wrong lane on Highway 41 at the Airport road in the Town of Menasha on Monday.

The case was adjourned by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Aug. 8.

Fined $25, Costs for Buying Beer for Minor

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — William Kienast, 21, Oshkosh, pleaded guilty to a charge of purchasing beer for a minor and was fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger.

Kienast purchased the beer in a tavern on Highway 41 owned by Norman Kleinschmidt. On July 19 the tavern owner pleaded guilty to furnishing beer to a minor and was fined $50 and costs.

Yankees Spear Title in Neenah Junior Circuit

Defeat Sox 11-9 For 11th Victory; Tigers Notch Win

Neenah — The Yankees clinched the championship in the Neenah Junior Baseball league by defeating the White Sox 11-9 Wednesday at Washington park.

The winners have an 11-3 record while the White Sox have 4-8. The victors had a 9-2 lead going into the fifth when the Sox scored seven to tie the score. A pair in the last of the inning won the game for the Yankees.

The victors collected nine hits, three by Dick Diehrich and two by Ricky Getschow. Bob Wisniewski made three for the Sox and Dale Howe and Dave Missall hit doubles.

The Tigers scored five runs in the fifth inning to break up a close game and defeat the Indians 7-1 in another Junior league fray. George Steffensen limited the losers to two hits. The Tigers made 10 off Tom Ebben.

Dick Wiesner had three bingles for the winners and Mory Handler, Stew Schwerin and Steffensen collected two each. Steffensen's blows were doubles.

The Hawkeyes trimmed the Boilermakers 10-4 in the Grade circuit. They have a 7-3 record to 6-4 for the losers.

Bob Staszak had four hits for the winners, including a triple. Ken Peterson collected a triple and single. Tom Crawford had three of the losers' six safeties. Pete Neubauer made two. Peterson was the winner and Miller took the loss.

The Gophers edged the Badgers 6-5 in another Grade league fray. The Gophers have 3-7 record and the Badgers have 10 straight losses.

Both teams tallied four hits, but no player on either club made more than one. Bruce Menning hit a double for the Badgers. Gene Loughrin was the winner and Gary Banks took the loss.

Wards 1 and 9 romped to a 23-3 triumph over Wards 3-5 in a Midget Softball league tilt. Paul Pansy had three hits for the winners. Tom Dennee, Robert Billings and Neal Earley made two. Richard Thiel and Pansy hit triples and Bob Dennee had a double for the winners. Bernie Peterson had two hits for the losing squad.

Summit Meetings With Khrushchev Accomplish Nothing, Says Sokolsky

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

K. Zilliacus, left-wing member of the British parliament, gives to historic events a twist of logic which takes the cake. He, in effect, blames President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan for the murder of Imre Nagy, the Hungarian martyr to Soviet tyranny. This first paragraph in a long letter to the editor of the "Manchester Garden" from Zilliacus explains all:

"The moral iniquity and political imbecility of the murders of Nagy and his associates, aggravated by treachery and mendacity, do not warrant the conclusion that the Soviet government is not in earnest about a summit conference. It would be nearer the truth to say that these things have happened mainly because the Soviet leaders have convinced themselves that the American and British governments do not want a summit conference."

It is difficult to believe that the Soviet leaders are as infantile in their piques as Zilliacus pretends. They are grown men and have been around a long time.

U. S. an Impediment

They know that they are engaged in an imperialistic process and that they have thus far done remarkably well. They also know that the principal impediment to an even greater success has been the United States which in a slow, chaotic, talky sort of way has managed from time to time to place impediments in their path. Sometimes, these impediments have been in the wrong place, actually giving them cover for something nefarious, as when the Berlin airlift was used as a cover for the biggest steal of all, the conquest of China.

Naturally, after the last one at Geneva, the heads of western States are not anxious to attend a summit conference with Nikita Khrushchev. In the first place nothing is accomplished. An enormous amount of time is wasted, while Khrushchev plays the role of an ill-mannered buffoon. At Geneva, it may be recalled, he showed up in Bulganin's train, somewhat unexpectedly. He was then officially not a part of the Russian government but as head of the party, he was the effective master.

He immediately took over and entered upon one of his publicity stunts, which reminded one of the Ziegfeld stunt of having Anna Held take baths in milk with reporters alerted to write about it. (I think it was Anna Held.) As a publicity hunter, Eisenhower is no match for Khrushchev. Eisenhower is a rather dignified extrovert who is accustomed to talking to gentlemen and who would have cashiered Khrushchev had he been under his command.

Must Be Constructive

Of course, for the sake of peace, it may be necessary to meet with all sorts of rascals, but then one must have a belief that something constructive can be accomplished by such a meeting. Had Khrushchev not tried to ring in Nehru and Nasser and a bunch of Arabs in what is to be a summit conference, one might have believed in his sincerity, but his proposals thus far would indicate that in his mind the whole thing is a joke. One can imagine the conversation going like this:

K. "Ike, why the devil don't you get out of Lebanon? We'll bury you if you don't, because historical inevitability is on our side. You can't win, so why not collapse?"

E. "I want to say . . ."

K. "As Karl Marx said, every epoch has its own characteristics. You small peoples of western Europe and America had your day and your fun and it's over. It must be over because Karl Marx said so. Also Lenin said so. Therefore stop playing with atom bombs and hydrogen bombs. We've got more than you have and bigger ones."

E. "Then why are you against UN control and inspection?"

K. "What for? We don't have to monkey around with the UN. Look how Dag Hammarskjold was afraid to go into Hungary. It made me laugh. If the UN gets funny, we'll get out and we'll take half the world with us. They have 81 nations. How many do you think they'll have when we get out? Do you think that jelly-fish, Nehru, will stay with the UN? Do you think that bronze giant, Nasser, will stay? Don't kid yourself, Ike, we've got the votes and we've got the power and we'll do as we please!"

Do you suppose President Eisenhower or anybody else wants to listen to that intellectual garbage for any length of time?

Sportsmen's Book Placed On Menasha Library Shelf

Menasha — A book for sportsmen is "Outdoor Life's Gallery of North American Game", recently purchased by the Elsie D. Smith Public library. According to Librarian Marvin Melick the book contains 30 intimate biographies of America's favorite game animals and birds.

It is written by 12 prominent naturalists and is magnificently illustrated. Another outdoor book is Rae Oetting's "Camping and Outdoor Cooking", just the right guide for those going on an outing.

Prisoner Stories

The consequences of nuclear energy use in peace and in the cold war, the dangers and opportunities for the individual, nation and human race are discussed in Edward Teller's "Our Nuclear Future." Also of timely interest is Eric Burgess' "Satellites and Spaceflight."

Two stories of prisoners of war are told in Gerhard Fittkau's "My Thirty-Third Year", a priest's experience in a Russian work camp, and "Escape from Corregidor" by Edgar Whitcomb.

Other new non-fiction works are Rev. Reuben Youngdahl's "The Pathway to Peace", a Lutheran minister's messages that help men and women discover abundant living; Ned Williams' "Paper Magic", the art of paper folding; Peter Gowland's "How to Take Better Home Movies", and Walter Daniels' "The American Labor Movement."

New mysteries include "Dis-honor Among Thieves" by Prentice Winchell, "Grow Cold Along With Me" by Miriam Lynch, "A Killing in the Market" by George Goodman, "The Man in Gray" by Frances Crane, "The Count of Nine" by A. A. Fair and "Man-hunt in Murder" by Wyndham Martyn.

Western additions are "Five Against the Law" by Thomas Mount and "Trouble at Tulley's Run" by George Appell. Bernard Malamud supplies a collection of short stories in "The Magic Barrel."

Neenah Youth Loses Driving Privileges

Neenah — A Neenah youth lost his driving privileges for 30 days when he admitted speeding 30 miles an hour on his motor scooter in Riverside park Tuesday night.

Dennis K. Voss, 16, 516 Adams street, had his license revoked by Police Justice Edmund P. Arpin this morning.

Mrs. Charles E. Schaller, 212 E. Doty avenue, forfeited a $6.20 bond at the police station for allowing her dog to run at large Monday afternoon.

AEC Reports New Types of Hydrogen And Atomic Weapons

Washington — The United States today reported development of new types of atomic and hydrogen weapons which can be put to deadly use more quickly than earlier models.

The atomic energy commission in its semi-annual report to congress said:

"Weapons models have been improved and new types of weapons — smaller, more efficient, more rugged, and more immediately ready — have been developed to meet the requirements of the armed forces . . . (toward) preserving the peace."

At the same time, the AEC said current weapons research and development programs are aimed partly at producing weapons even smaller, still more rugged and "immediately ready — that is, ready within minutes."

Other programs are aimed at producing weapons of greatly reduced radioactive fallout in a variety of sizes for strategic, tactical and defensive use.

6:30—Packagers vs. Neenah Paper (Jefferson)
8 o'clock—Wooden Ware vs. Banta's (Recreation)
8 o'clock—Soo Line vs. Gilbert Paper (Jefferson)

Neenah — The Marathon Ramblers gun for their tenth straight National division win in the Twin City Industrial Softball league when they play Lakeview at 6:30 this evening at the Recreation field.

The Rams have all but sealed up the National division crown while Lakeview has a 5-4 record for third place. The Ramblers hold a 2½ game edge over the runner-up Neenah Foundry. They registered a 14-4 win over the Kimberly-Clark entry in the first meeting.

The other Marathon entrant, the Packagers, will have an opportunity to move back into first place in the American division. It plays Neenah Paper at 6:30 at Jefferson park.

Main Office took a half game lead with its win over Tissue Mills Tuesday night and a victory would give the Packagers a tie again. Neenah Paper, with a 3-7 mark, has won its last two games. In two previous games, the Pack walked off with 7-2 and 29-0 triumphs.

Banta's and Wooden Ware will collide in an 8 o'clock tussle at the Recreation field. They have 4-5 and 2-7 records respectively. The Publishers picked up a 4-2 win in the first game together.

Gilbert Paper and Soo Line are matched in the 8 o'clock fracas at Jefferson park. Gilbert's tallied 18-5 and 12-0 triumphs in their initial collisions.

Trinity Nine Collects 3rd League Win

Menasha — First place Trinity blanked Congregational 20-0 in the Menasha Church Softball league Tuesday night. It has a 3-0 record.

The winners scored five runs in the first inning, two in the second, six in the third, four in the fourth and three in the sixth. They tallied 20 hits to Congregational's seven.

Willie Karnopp was the winning pitcher and "Gus" Block took the loss. Roger Westphal had 5 for 5 for the victors, including a homer. Karnopp also homered.

The Bethel - St. Timothy game wasn't reported. St. John drew a bye.

Gunderson Wins Championship in Boys' Tennis Meet

Menasha — Gary Gunderson won the city championship in the singles tournament for boys 11 and under by defeating Bill Hedberg 6-4, 6-0 in the finals Wednesday at Smith park.

Gunderson defeated Pat Conway 6-1, 6-0 in the semi-finals while Hedberg turned back Tom Vanderhyden 6-2, 6-1.

In quarter-final matches, Gunderson defeated Mark Halberman 6-0, 6-1, Conway topped Bruce Karow 6-3, 6-0. Hedberg won over Mike Smith 7-5, 6-1 and Vanderhyden defeated Mark Klein 6-0, 6-1.

Halberman downed Tom Kenney 6-8, 6-3, 6-0 in the second round. Karow bested Ben Adams 6-0, 6-1, Smith won from Gary Gooding 6-0, 6-1 and Klein defeated Mike Christman 6-2, 6-2. Gunderson, Conway, Vanderhyden and Hedberg drew second round byes.

First round winners were Halberman over Rod Vanderhyden 6-2, Kenney over K. Klein 6-0, Karow over Jim DeWall 6-0, Smith over Don Blaney 6-1 and Gooding over Mark Lyons 12-10.

er Jim Verkuilen gave up eight. Bob Penter and "Bud" Geibel each had two for the winners and George Hinske made two for the Press.

9 Runs in 4th
Main Office tallied nine runs in the fourth to highlight its win over Finishing. The victors added a pair in the sixth. Finishing made seven in the first, one in the fourth and two in the seventh.

Bob Stallman had three hits for the winners and Abrahamson, Dueter and Abelman all made two. Dave Kenney homered. Pete Birling and Mike Simonis cracked three and Minton had two for Finishing.

Jim Young was the winning pitcher and Herb Buss took the loss. Office had a 12-11 hit advantage.

Menasha Legion Club Faces Mayville Nine

Lenz-Gazecki Post Makes 15th Start In Valley League

Menasha — Menasha's Legion squad, nearing the end of its 1958 schedule, will make tonight when it journeys to Mayville for its fifteenth Fox River Valley Junior Legion league game.

Because they've dropped successive league losses to Green Bay and Kaukauna, the Menashans must win tonight to keep their second half title hopes alive.

They have a 3½ record while Fond du Lac, Green Bay and Oshkosh are above them with one or less losses. Mayville has a 1-2 second round mark.

Bows to Kaukauna

The Mayville entry defeated Kaukauna 6-2 last weekend and forced Oshkosh to go 14 innings before losing 7-8 Tuesday night.

Mayville finished the first round with a 2-7 record. One of those defeats came at the hands of the Lenz-Gazecki post. Don Jensen chalked up a three hitter on June 24 in a 5-1 triumph. Bob Schellpfeffer, just out of grade school, was the loser. That win started an 8-game victory chain.

Jensen, who saw brief relief duty in the 9-6 loss to Kaukauna Tuesday night, is expected to draw the starting mound assignment.

Overall 11-5 Mark

Going into the test, the Menasha squad has an overall 11-5 record. It had 7-2 in first half play, holds 3-2 in the second, defeated New Holstein High school in its only non-league start and lost to Sturgeon Bay in a tournament tilt.

The widest margin of defeat was four runs (10-6 to Green Bay). Three-run losses were dealt out by the Bays, Fond du Lac and Kaukauna and the post lost to Sturgeon Bay by two markers.

Two Tennis Tournaments Scheduled in Neenah

Neenah — Two tennis tournaments for Neenah youngsters are scheduled Friday morning. The doubles meet for girls 15 and under will get underway at 9 o'clock at the high school courts and the doubles tournament for boys 15 and under is scheduled for Doty park at the same time. Boys and girls who were under 15 last Jan. 1 are eligible.

Tom Nortell's eligible. He walked four Jack Ankerson and Dick Wilmeier had three hits for the year while girls' honors went to Bats and Mike Vindhurst made to Mary Reiersen and Sally 'two of the losers' three bingles Cross.

A Major Attraction at the Oshkosh public museum has been the 60-year-old Apostles clock made by the late Matthias Kittz of Oshkosh. It has been moved to a new location because of the crowds that thronged around it as it sounded the hour. Janice Miller, an Oshkosh State college student is watching the procession as Apostles pass before Christ, bowing to Him and moving on, except for Judas who turns his head away. Christ in turn blesses each Apostle. (Post-Crescent Photo)

63-Years-Old Apostles' Clock Serves as Museum Feature Attraction

Oshkosh — A question most frequently asked Stuart Mong, curator of the Oshkosh public museum, is, "How much is that clock worth?" The questioner is referring to the famed Apostles clock with the curator replies is invaluable as an attendance getter and difficult to calculate as to its worth in money.

Completed in 1895 by Matthias Kittz, an Oshkosh cabinet maker, the clock continues to keep good time — the day of the week and of the month as well as the hour — and attracts visitors from all over the country.

Hourly an angel striking a gong announces the march of the 12 apostles past the figure of Christ, who raises His arms in blessing. Each apostle bows to Christ — all, that is, except Judas, who turns his head away.

Mathias' son George added two wings containing views of Jesus tending His sheep and Christ on the cross about 1919. Mathias' grandson, Edwin Kittz who still lives in Oshkosh, gave the clock to the museum in February, 1948.

The works of the clock were made from the steam dome of the first steam fire engine in Oshkosh. The circular platform on which the figures move was made from an old circular saw. The clock itself is run by weights instead of springs, although the music box has the one spring in the entire clock.

Over 28,900 visitors attended the museum in 1957 with peak attendance being in the summer months. Over 4,300 students toured the museum during the fall and spring months.

The balance of 24,600 is art lovers who attend the monthly art shows, antique collectors who press their noses against the glass cases containing the museum's china and glassware collections, gun enthusiasts who come from all over the state to view the museum's gun and cartridge collection which went on display early this year and students of natural history and archeology.

Sixty Appleton school classes tour the Pioneer and Indian rooms each year as part of their study program, utilizing the museum's facilities to a greater extent than any other school system in the state, Mong said. Mong has been curator since 1955, succeeding the late Nile J. Behncke.

The Pioneer room gives reality to the life of early Wisconsin settlers. The Indian room contains a collection of Indian objects which give a picture of Indian life in early Wisconsin. Featured exhibits in the latter room are a typical Wisconsin Indian burial and a replica of Menominee Indian Chief Reginald Oshkosh, grandson of the old Chief Oshkosh, for whom the city was named, beating the Dream Dance drum.

In another section of the museum is a collection of relics of the Oshkosh family, which contains a bust of the present-day chief of the Menominees, Roy Oshkosh of Egg Harbor, done by Mong, who is a sculptor, in May, 1956.

Donated to City
The Oshkosh museum, which can be reached on highways 110 and 21, is housed in old-time lumberman Edgar P. Sawyer's former home, built in 1908 and donated to the city in 1924.

Many exhibits have been staged in the museum's 34 years' of existence. This month, for instance, a section of the museum's permanent art collection is on exhibit, along with a show of student work from Layton Art school in Milwaukee.

Featured in a special case just inside the front door is an exhibit commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Grand theatre in Oshkosh. The Grand Opera house, designed by Oshkosh architect William Waters at a cost of $36,000, opened August 9, 1883, with a performance of "The Bohemian Girl."

Exhibits in preparation include a Wisconsin wood display being prepared by Ralph N. Buckstaff, curator of natural history since the museum's inception in 1924, and a chronicle of women's costumes, still in the planning stage.

Zesty Cheese Dressing in Potato Salad

The distinctive flavor of Roquefort cheese is enhanced when used as a dressing in potato salad.

Long white potatoes can be cubed beautifully for perfect use in a favorite potato salad recipe. Its nippy, spicy cheese-milk flavor, makes old-fashioned potato salad a new and wonderful eating treat.

Potato Salad

4 to 5 potatoes
3 green onions, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup wine vinegar or dry white wine
6 tablespoons salad oil
1 pound Roquefort cheese
3 tablespoons light cream
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 hard boiled eggs, sliced pickle slices

Cook the potatoes in boiling

Peel and dice; combine with onions, celery, salt, pepper, vinegar (or dry white wine) and oil. Allow flavor to mellow several hours.

Mash the Roquefort cheese with cream; add to mayonnaise.

Combine with potatoes and chill thoroughly. When ready to serve, garnish with sliced eggs and pickle slices.

Ham Cooking Time

You'll need to heat a room-temperature half ham that is fully cooked from 10 to 15 minutes per pound.

English Fish Pie May be Made In Casserole or Pastry Shell

BY FRANK KOHLER

English Fish Pie is one of two excellent recipes from J. V. Brown, London, England. While this may be done just in a shallow casserole, our English friends make a pastry shell and bake the fish in it. So if you wish, line a 2-quart casserole with unbaked pastry—otherwise grease the casserole lightly, and go on from there.

Fish Pie

1-3 cup butter.
1 teaspoon anchovy paste (optional).
1-3 cup flour.
2 cups milk.
2 teaspoons salt.
1 teaspoon black pepper.
Dash cayenne.
1 pound Swiss cheese, grated
2 small onions, grated.
2 pimientos, diced.
1 pound fillet of sole (or flounder) cut in 1-inch pieces.
2 medium potatoes, grated.
2 hard-boiled eggs, sliced thin.
Preheat oven to 450 degrees, if using pastry; 375 degrees otherwise. Prepare casserole as desired. Melt butter in a saucepan and, if using the anchovy, blend that in, then the flour, then slowly add the milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Season with salt and pepper and cayenne.

Save out one-third cup of the cheese, and stir the remainder into the sauce. Stir in onion and pimiento.

Arrange alternate layers of fish, potato, sauce and egg, topping with sauce and the remaining cheese. Bake about 45 minutes, until crust or top is nicely browned.

County Employees Supervisors Plan Chicken Barbecue

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Winnebago county board members and county employees have scheduled a noon chicken barbecue for their annual picnic Sunday at the county park at Winnebago.

Members of the county agriculture extension office will head up the barbecue committee.

Other features of the picnic will be a softball game featuring county board members and employees in the afternoon and games for women and children in the pavilion and playground area.

Among those on the planning committee for the picnic are Supt. John Heigl of Neenah, vice chairman of the county board, and Supv. Al Becher of Menasha, a member of the county fair and park committee.

County Clerk Nell A. Hoffmann is in charge of reservations.

Winnebago Plans State Fair Booth

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Winnebago county will be one of 18 counties with a booth exhibit at the state fair Aug. 16 to 24. Lawn care is the subject of the Winnebago county booth which will show seasonal jobs recommended for lawn management practices.

Five other booths will be of the seasonal type and 12 will be devoted to the job of the month. An example is wheel track planting of corn for one month. County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky said.

Frankfurter Sauce

A new way to serve frankfurters and it is so easy too. A sauce, highlighting chopped dill, vinegar, brown sugar, seasonings and chopped pimiento is served over cooked frankfurters.

Firm Completes Reappraisal of Winnebago Town

Winnebago — Reappraisal of the town of Winnebago for property tax equalization has been completed by the Doane Agricultural service.

An open book session will be held at the village hall here from 10 o'clock in the morning to 4 o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Property owners can check their new valuations and compare it with others.

The board of review then will meet at the village hall from 10 o'clock in the morning to 4 o'clock in the afternoon on Friday and Saturday of next week to go over the new valuation figures and meet with property owners seeking an adjustment of their valuations.

The reappraisal is the result of action taken earlier by town residents.

Honey for Flavor

Honey adds flavor and aroma to yeast breads; it may be used in small amounts without changing the breadmaking process.

Man's Recipe

Rhubarb Pudding Favorite Of Owner of Village Farm

BY HAYDN S. PEARSON

We came to Sunny Acres, our 10-acre village farm, in September, 1951. I searched a long time for a village home with at least five acres, for I wanted to run many gardening experiments. As this is written, there are 40,400 square feet in garden plots and 20,060 feet in the sidehill orchard of dwarf Malling fruit trees.

I like old, weathered barns and I am happy that we have a 30 by 60 old timer. The south side of the barn is a blended salt, one quart rhubarb in one-symphony of soft browns, grays and silver hues. After a half century and more of weathering, the boards have muted hues that could not be duplicated by a painter's brush. Along the south side of the barn is a tall hedge of old fashioned lilacs. It makes a picture that we enjoy.

Rhubarb Pudding

Today's recipe is one of my top favorite puddings. Use one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons butter, one cup whole milk, one half cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one quart rhubarb in one-symphony of soft browns, grays and silver hues. After a half century and more of weathering, the boards have muted spoon sugar, two shakes of cinnamon.

Cook together for about seven minutes over moderate heat the quart of rhubarb mixed with the two teaspoons butter, cup of sugar and fourth cup of water. Put rhubarb into a casserole. Pour batter into the sauce. Sprinkle batter with a tablespoon of brown sugar; then sprinkle on the teaspoon of sugar mixed with the two shakes of cinnamon.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes, or until cooked. Serve this with cream or ice cream and you have one of the world's top desserts.

Boy Only Bruised When Truck Drives Over Legs

Kansas City — Little Jimmy Kepler, 7, must be tougher than a truck.

His mother, Mrs. James Kepler, was backing a pickup truck out of the driveway with Jimmy and his sisters, Julie, 11, and Vickie, 8, in the back when she heard the girls yelling.

Jimmy had fallen out. The truck had backed over his legs—and he was pinned beneath the wheels.

Mrs. Kepler jumped back in the truck and backed a little farther to free Jimmy.

She took him to a hospital where doctors found only bruises.

Frying Chicken Still Ahead as Best Buy

Old Formula Keeps Them in Spotlight; Large Supply and Reasonable Prices

It's still frying chicken heading the list of best meat buys in Appleton stores. And they stay in the spotlight this week thanks to a tried and true formula: Big supply and low prices.

A good chicken can be gotten for 39 cents a pound while an uncut bird is a bit lower at 35 cents a pound.

Heavy numbers of chicks currently being fattened for market guarantee heavy supplies until at least Labor day. After that the normal seasonal downturn is expected to keep fryers at bargain levels for some time to come.

Other meats still are very high, many of them in the luxury class. A sampling of prices taken in Appleton food stores shows round steak from 75 to 89 cents, sirloin from 89 to 99 cents, rib roast from 85 to 89 cents, pork roast from 59 to 79 cents, pork steak from 63 to 69 cents, pork chops from 79 to 89 cents, lamb shoulder roast at about 65 cents and shoulder veal steak at about 85 cents a pound.

Eggs Up
Eggs have gone up a few cents a dozen with a dozen Grade A large now ranging from 51 to 57 cents. The increase is laid to seasonal factors.

The so-called soft fruits are among the best produce buys this week although many vegetables, too, can be considered

Top fruits are sweet cherries at 29 cents a pound, blueberries at 29 cents a box, Elberta peaches at 13 cents a pound, large Hale peaches at 29 cents a pound, red and yellow plums at 29 cents a pound, nectarines at 29 cents a pound, green and red grapes at 29 cents a pound, apricots at 29 cents a pound, cantaloupe at 25 cents a melon and watermelon at about 69 cents apiece.

The time to can or freeze peaches is when they are offered for sale by the bushel rather than the pound. This should be in August or early September but if the canning bug has got you, cans of sugared sour cherries at 30 pounds for $4.95 are considered reasonable.

Other Buys
Although strawberries are few and far between this time of year, a few good quarts were seen at 39 cents. Rather high are Bartlett pears at 20 cents a pound and black raspberries at 39 cents a pint.

Best buys in vegetable bins are Idaho potatoes at 10 pounds for 69 cents, peas in the pod at 23 cents a pound, cucumbers at 5 cents apiece, radishes at 5 cents a bunch, green peppers at 5 cents apiece, carrots at 15 cents a bunch, green and yellow beans at 15 cents a pound, sweet corn at 49 cents a dozen, leaf lettuce at 10 cents a bunch, lettuce at 17 cents a head and beets at 10 cents a bunch.

Moderate to high priced are celery at 35 cents a bunch, green and red cabbage at 10 cents a pound and cauliflower at about 40 cents a head.

Home grown tomatoes are reasonable at 19 cents a pound but prices should improve as the season progresses.

Have a Beach Party With Simple Menu
Hostess Can Invite Many Guests, Yet Have Little Work

Entertaining can be a picnic for hostess and guests alike with a beach party. Set the table on white sands along a lake or some shaded river bank and cook over driftwood fire.

In these spacious surroundings, one may entertain as many guests as they wish if the menu is carefully chosen. It need not be expensive nor the equipment for carrying the food a problem. Some provision is needed for keeping perishables cool, such as the new insulated plastic bags. Their light weight makes for easy carrying. Kitchen equipment with tight lids can double for picnic gear.

In planning the food, keep it simple. This picnic entree—All-Together Frankfurters—is served on bakers' buns and has been prepared at home. The franks are combined with a delicious, tangy catsup sauce and cooked for 10 minutes, then cooled. At the picnic, they may be easily reheated over the fire by placing them in a long-handled corn popper.

Good to eat with the franks is cole slaw. Assorted chilled fruits, packaged cookies and bottled soft drinks complete the menu. Don't forget to put out the fire.

All-Together Franks
2-3 cup catsup
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 cup sweet pickle relish
2 teaspoons horseradish
6 frankfurters, sliced lengthwise
6 sliced frankfurter buns
Combine catsup, mustard, onion, pickle relish and horseradish. Add sliced frankfurters. Heat for 10 minutes. Serve two heated frankfurter halves and some of the mixture in each bun.

Cream Sauce Tip
Adding milk that is scalding hot to the fat-flour mixture used when making a cream sauce, helps prevent the fat from floating on top.

Young Fry Will Enjoy Roundup Breakfast Fun

"Whoop-tee ti yi yo" for this chuck wagon breakfast. Once its fragrant aroma drifts out across "the range," whether its your back yard or a park, cow punchers big and little will send spurs a-jingling to gather around the campfire.

It is a true western style meal with plenty of western burgers cooked over a bed of coals to be served between bakers' buns which are kept warm on the edge of the grill.

Breakfast for those who drive the dogies is certain to include sizzling, hot fried potatoes. These burgers feature sausage meat and eggs, their flavor heightened by chopped green pepper and onion. This mixture of eggs, onion, green pepper, olives and bread crumbs can be mixed at home and added to sausage after it has been browned at picnic site. Keep the party in character with a pot of boiled coffee for the grownups, cocoa for the young fry. A basket of western fruits —grapes, pears and apples—make the perfect finish for this breakfast.

Western Burgers
6 hamburger buns, sliced
1 cup soft butter
1 pound pork sausage meat
1-3 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1-3 chopped stuffed olives
2 eggs, slightly beaten

1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons water
Spread butter on hamburger buns. Place pork sausage into skillet and brown well. Remove meat and reserve fat. To pork sausage, add green pepper, onion, olives, eggs, bread crumbs and water. Mix well. Form into six patties. Brown on both sides in skillet. Heat buns. Serve meat patties in heated buns.

Not All Ants Attend Picnics, Some Steadily Employed at Skilled Jobs

Contrary to what picnickers think, ants don't spend all their lives going to the country to eat sandwiches and hard boiled eggs.

Certain species are fierce biters and voracious feeders on farm crops. Others build huge, colony nests several feet above ground. Other less spectacular species nest under pavements in peace and privacy. Still others colonize within the walls of dwellings, while yet others, the carpenter ants, excavate many-chambered homes in wood.

Incredibly strong for their size, ants are amazingly complex creatures, both physically and socially. They live a highly organized community life in vast and complicated colonies that make man-made housing projects look like ant hills.

An ant isn't just any old ant. More than 100 varieties infest different parts of the United States, and in such numbers that one midwestern scientist dared his students and colleagues to find a single rod of ground that didn't contain at least a handful of ants.

Some ants feed on sweets, others prefer fats. Some love to move right in with people, others shun human habitation.

Scouts Keep Alert
One reason ants are hard for the householder to control is that they are forever scouting for new sources of food, sending workers in large numbers in all directions. Wiping them out is also made more difficult by the fact that ants are the only social insect which can in alarm almost instantly pick up and move, colony and all, for a newer, safer location.

All ants live in complex colonies, some varieties organizing so highly as to keep 'cattle'. These 'cattle' are aphids or plant lice which have been domesticated by the ants and are carefully shepherded to plant pastures. From them the worker ants 'milk' honeydew, a substance which some ant varieties hold in high esteem.

Ant varieties and infestations vary widely by geographical area. The hundred and more species, many imported from other countries, range in size from the shiny black half-inch long carpenter ant to the colorfully named Thief ant and Pharaoh's ant, both inconspicuously-colored and scarcely a sixteenth of an inch long when full-grown.

Swarmers Not Termites
All ants have in common a swarming pattern which establishes new colonies by sending forth young queens and workers equipped with wings, a species produced only once each year.

The swarmers are almost inevitably confused with termites, which likewise produce a specially-equipped winged generation for colonizing purposes. How to tell them apart? Easy, say the scientists.

Just remember that every ant, flying or otherwise, has a well-defined narrow waist. Termites are as waistless as the current female fashions.

Best weapon against a serious infestation of house ants is super-careful cleanliness. One or two may visit, but won't linger long without available food supplies. If they find food to their liking — watch out. A line of workers will soon be visiting and a colony of thousands may move in.

Most ant varieties have workers which haul food back to the colony. That habit furnishes a convenient way to locate the nest and exterminate it. Just follow them home.

A Summer Dainty, Fresh crab meat is good when formed into balls and fried in deep fat.

Crabmeat Recipes Yield Variety of Delicacies

BY EDITH M. BARBER

Although it is the chickens that take us to the Delmarva peninsula, one of the delights

Barber

Little of this is canned but there is plenty of crabmeat from the Pacific coast. This has much the same flavor, but is not as delicate in texture. It is appropriate for use in any crabmeat recipe. In fresh form when eaten on the West coast, it is particularly good. The crab is much larger than that found in Maryland and Virginia.

The Eastern crab is used in both hard and soft shell form. It is really the same crab, as when it grows to a certain size, it conveniently sheds its shell. Then it can be used for sautee-claws are tender enough to eat. The meat of the full grown crab is picked so that there is no cartilage left. Then it is ready to use, au gratin style or made into croquettes sometimes known as cakes or balls.

The meat should be combined with plenty of a very thick cream sauce, and allowed to chill so it can be formed into balls with floured hands. Then the balls are dipped into crumbs, egg and then crumbs again before they are fried in deep fat. While the crust is crisp, the center must be soft, if it is to be a perfect crab cake. This is indeed, a Maryland treat.

Deviled Crabmeat
1 pound (2 cups) flaked cooked or canned crabmeat
4 tablespoons butter

2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Dash of nutmeg
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup rolled oats
2 tablespoons melted butter
Pick over crabmeat to remove cartilage, and flake.
Melt butter, stir in flour, salt, mustard, paprika, and nutmeg. When well blended, add milk slowly, stirring constantly over low heat until mixture thickens and boils. Stir in parsley, lemon juice, and crabmeat.
Fill scallop shells or place in greased 14-quart baking dish. Sprinkle with rolled oats which have been mixed with the butter, and bake in moderate oven about ten minutes, until golden brown.

Crab Cakes
1 pound (2 cups) flaked cooked or canned crabmeat
1 cup thick cream sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons water
Fine, dry crumbs
Pick over crabmeat to remove cartilage, and flake. Mix with cream sauce, seasoning and parsley. Chill one hour.
Form into cakes. Dip in slightly beaten egg diluted with water, roll in crumbs, and fry in deep, hot fat three to five minutes, until golden brown. Drain on soft paper.

Salves Conscience by Sending Diamond Ring To Tax Service Office

San Francisco — A conscience-stricken taxpayer's diamond ring will be auctioned off by the federal government.

The ring was mailed from Coquille, Ore., three weeks ago to the internal revenue service office in Portland. With the ring was a note explaining:

"I feel I owe more taxes to the government than I have paid. This ring may satisfy the deficit. (signed) Careless."

General service administration officials, who appraised the ring at $200 and said it probably cost twice that when new, declared it would be sold only if the top bid at today's auction is near the appraised value.

Muffin Surprise

Drop a spoonful of honey on the top of a muffin before you put it in the oven to bake. The honey will sink to the center and it will surprise and delight the one who eats it.

Insurance Sales Show Gains in U.S. and Canada

Companies on Both Sides of Border Report Increases

BY SAM DAWSON

New York — The insurance salesmen are plying a 2-way street across our northern boundary. The busy financial thoroughfare between Canada and the United States shows a traffic increase today in insurance as well as in capital investment.

Sales both here and there have increased despite the recession. Life insurance policies of all types foreign and domestic — by companies, savings banks, fraternal and assessment organizations and the government's veterans kind — now come to more than $500 billion and involve 121 million Americans.

Canadian companies sold nearly $1 billion of life insurance to Americans last year for a gain of $90 million over 1956. U.S. companies peddled more than $1 billion in policies to our northern neighbors for an increase of almost $380 million.

The Canadians are particularly strong at selling annuities to Americans. U.S. salesmen at selling ordinary life policies.

But the recent spurt on the part of American salesmen has not had too much effect yet on the over-all exchange of American and Canadian dollars in premiums and benefits, both of which are in pretty close balance. This could be changed in the future if the American gains of the last two years jell into a definite trend.

Capital investment by Americans in Canadian securities and in development of Canadian resources has fretted some Canadians who fear it might lead to financial influence over Canada. President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker discussed this trouble spot on there.

In the case of the insurance

To Place A Want-Ad Dial 3-4411

companies, however, total outside investments are still in favor of the Canadians. The 12 Canadian companies doing business in this country have invested $13 billion here. The 35 U.S. companies doing business in Canada list less than $14 billion in assets there.

Figures from America's Institute of Life Insurance and from the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' association show that in 1957 the 12 Canadian companies had $180 million in premium income from policies in force here, while the 35 U.S. companies garnered $191 million from Canadians. The Canadians' score on annuity premiums was $46½ million to the Americans' $107 million.

Priests Get New Posts

St. Joseph Parish Involved in Several Capuchin Transfers

Several Capuchin priests known in the Green Bay diocese have received new assignments.

Two priests, the Rev. George Henseler, OFM, Cap., and the Rev. Joseph Smetana, OFM, Cap., have been named to the staff of St. Joseph church here.

Father George has been guardian of St. Lawrence college, Mount Calvary, for several years and Father Joseph formerly was an assistant at St. Francis parish, Milwaukee. An Appleton native, the Rev. Ronald Dusick, OFM, Cap., who has been serving as an assistant at St. Elizabeth parish, Milwaukee, succeeds Father George at St. Lawrence.

The Rev. Ulric Bueening, OFM, Cap., who has been at St. Joseph church for several years, has been assigned to Milwaukee as provincial delegate for the Third Order of St. Francis while the Rev. Peter Hesse, OFM, Cap., former pastor of St. Joseph's and most recently on the St. Lawrence seminary staff, has been named a professor at St. Anthony friary, Marathon.

Two More Permits For Homes Issued

Amos Kohl and Ed Schroeder have been issued the 148th and 149th permits of the year for construction of new homes in Appleton.

Kohl will build a 4-room house, with bath, at 916 W. Glendale avenue for about $12,000. Schroeder will build a 7-room house, with bath, powder room and attached garage, at 600 N. Douglas street for about $17,000.

It's Not Like Today's blackboards, but it's a blackboard, nevertheless. The relic of bygone Appleton school days was discovered by the Fred Richards family, 732 E. Washington street, when plaster and lath was torn from the living room during a remodeling project. It is believed the blackboards, still covered with writing, were used about 100 years ago when private schools flourished in old First ward. Bob Richards points out some of the writings. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Covered by Plaster

Old Blackboards Discovered Behind Walls of Living Room

Several old blackboards, youngsters of today, were made probably used during Appleby painting a section of the ton's early days when private wall black, then writing with schools flourished in the old white chalk.

People Hurrying To Send Mail Before Rate Hike

Appleton residents are evidently writing and mailing as much as possible to avoid Friday's new postage rates. Francis Sumnicht reported that mail volume this morning was "partially like Christmas."

Mail volume figures for this week show an increase of only about 2 per cent over those of last year, however. Sumnicht credits the unusually high volume in July, 1957, to the threatened postage increase on third class mail at that time.

First class letters, post cards, airmail letters and airmail post cards will cost one cent more at 12:01 Friday morning.

FWD Company Gets $1½ Million In Contracts

Orders Deal With Air Force, Missile Gear, Development

Clintonville — Six new military contracts totaling approximately $1½ million have been awarded to Four Wheel Drive Auto company, G. F. DeCoursey, vice president for marketing, reported today. The contracts are in addition to the million dollar order for missile-carrying Teracruisers, announced by FWD recently.

Largest of the six orders is a $400,000 subcontract from Good-year Tire and Rubber company for a quantity of Translauncher bogies, a part of the MACE missile system.

Crash Truck

Another major contract granted by the air force is for a $300,000 prototype MB-4 crash and fire truck, water and foam unit with a 500 horsepower rear-mounted engine which both drives the truck and operates the water pump. Simultaneous pumping and driving is provided by a specially-engineered power divider.

FWD completed original development work on this vehicle several months ago and built a mock-up of the proposed unit. When the prototype model is completed, it will be delivered to the Wright Air Development center, Wright-Patterson Air Force base, Ohio.

Other Contracts

The remaining three air force contracts include $250,000 for a product advancement program on the Teracruisers, $50,000 from Standard Steel Works of Kansas City, Mo., for refueler truck tractors and a small FWD engineering consulting service contract from Beech Aircraft corporation, Wichita, Kan. The latter two are sub-contracts.

The sixth contract for $130,000 was placed by Transportation Research and Engineering command, U. S. Army, Ft. Eustis, Va. It calls for a number of 600 gallon capacity Rolling Fluid Transporters, a new size. Prior to this, FWD has developed and delivered similar units with 1,000-gallon capacity.

Carnival Worker Breaks Leg Climbing Ladder

Joseph W. Stevens, 49, Phoenix, Ariz., was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Lindy's ambulance about 6 o'clock Wednesday night after he fell from a ladder and broke his right leg. Stevens fell while climbing to a semi-trailer truck. He is employed with the carnival set up near the Cinderella ballroom on S. Oneida street where the accident occurred.

Year Around School Course To be Discussed

Legislative Committee To Draft Bills, Open Subject to Public

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The idea of year around instruction in local schools will be submitted for public discussion, a legislative council sub-committee has decided here.

"We will put it up there for the public to shoot at," said a member of the planning committee who is convinced that the method of utilizing costly school plants will have more critics than supporters.

The sub-committee announced that it will draft two bills and hold public hearings on them before the 1959 legislative convenes next January. They would:

1. Authorize local school boards to extend school instruction periods, at their option.

2. Provide some incentive for such an extension of school services, by special state aids that would reduce local school budget liability.

Committee discussions left little doubt, however, that there is no great local demand now for such changes in the school calendar.

Reduce School Need

The study by the committee was undertaken at the demand of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities whose members said there might be a chance to reduce the need for new schools through such a device.

But Assemblyman Milford Kuntz of Richland Center, committee chairman, said he has seen little public interest in the matter. His view was seconded by H. C. Weinlick of the Wisconsin Education association.

Meanwhile a spokesman for Milwaukee teachers told the committee that teachers would not welcome such an innovation because it would interfere with their use of summer vacations for graduate study, among other reasons.

Many schools now have special summer session offerings in specialized courses, for problem children, or for those who want advanced work not available during the regular terms. Schools should be encouraged to continue these courses said George Watson, the state superintendent of public instruction.

Foxes Need Wins and Big Crowds as Three-I League Race Enters Home Stretch

Directors Ask Club's Fans For Support

BY MIKE DREW

Despite their club's slow start in the Three-I league's second round and a recent dip in home attendance, Fox Cities Foxes officials are thinking only in positive terms about the future.

As the Foxes go into the home-stretch portion of their first Three-I league season, their attitude seems to be "There's not much wrong that a few wins and a few good crowds wouldn't cure."

With just six home series (19 dates) remaining, the officials called on area fans to encourage the club with solid backing during the final five weeks of the season.

The Foxes open a 3-game home set with Green Bay to-night in an Elks night booster game. They play the Bluejays again Friday night (Couples night) and then Saturday night in a Knights of Columbus Booster attraction. The club, which was idle Wednesday evening, then leaves town for a week.

Braves Switch

"When the Braves moved from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953," says Willis, "greatly increased fan interest boosted them into the first division, watched the Foxes dispatch though they had essentially the same players."

The Foxes have played some of their best baseball at home before their three biggest Good-

Booster game on May 28. And, the 2,228 Holy Name Booster society audience on July 10 saw an 8-4 win over Burlington.

So, there is good evidence that the Foxes respond to fan interest.

Break Even

The "break even" point for a Class B operation is generally considered to be about 65,000 fans per season, or 1,000 per game. The Fox Cities' current per-game home attendance average is 957 on a total draw, thus far, of 42,095.

The club has had a slow start in the second half of the Three-I league season. The Foxes are currently in last place, 11 1/2 games out of first and two games from fifth. They finished just 3 1/2 games out of third place—though fifth—in the first round and were an improving ball club at the end of the first round.

Injuries and illness have hurt the team more than usual could be expected.

Here are some of the worst breaks the Foxes have had:

1. Veteran first baseman Tom "Tex" Taylor, a stabilizing influence on the club, was out of action from June 21 to July 21 with a bone separation of the elbow.

2. Outfielder Jim Hall, currently the team's No. 4 hitter with a .284 break, has been bothered by a series of afflictions since he's been here. Hall, considered one of the top prospects in the Washington farm system, has been out of the lineup for 17 days with a kidney ailment. (He may be back tonight).

The pitching staff — criticized for not carrying its share of the burden in recent weeks — has been hit especially hard by tough luck.

3. Ted Sadowski, who has flashed major league potential on occasion, has been hampered since the third week of the season by a wrist ailment.

4. Ron Bloodworth, who won nine games for a last place Class B ballclub last season, was off the Foxes roster for three weeks this year while he attended national guard camp and then got married. Since then, he was out of action one week with a pulled muscle in his elbow.

5. Don Cameron, who was below peak condition when he joined the Fox Cities, was out of action a week or so with a blister on his pitching hand.

Rough Debut

6. Gary Mitchell, who chalked up 13 strikeouts over strong Cedar Rapids in making his record 3-3 on June 14, has dropped four straight decisions since then, while having considerable arm trouble.

The Fox Cities operation got off to a rough debut due to two major reasons. The club which started the season here — ex-

John DeYoung Gains 3rd Round In State Amateur

Meets Powerful Bobby Brue Today; Defending Champ Caravello Falls

Appleton's youthful John DeYoung pulled one of the major upsets thus far in the Wisconsin state amateur golf tournament Wednesday when he knocked off Milwaukee River-moor's Jimmy Martin, 3 and 2.

The victory came in the second round of the tournament, being conducted at Milwaukee's Brynwood course.

DeYoung, runnerup in last year's Appleton city meet, tripped Lake Mills' Willard Wendt in Wednesday's first round action by a score of 4 and 3.

DeYoung — who represents Appleton's Reid Muni course — fired 1-over-par golf in setting down the veteran Martin, for-

Cedar Rapids Takes Lead in Attendance

Foxes' Average Crowd Size Dwindles

Cedar Rapids took over the Three-I league attendance total lead as the attendance stand- ings took on the look of the win-loss standings.

Davenport, which has held first for over a month, played no home games last week and hence did not have a chance to increase or decrease its average. Cedar Rapids regained the lead held earlier in the season which it had lost to the Dav-

Sox. A huge crowd of 5,057 which attended a giveaway game between Cedar Rapids and Burlington hiked the Braves' average.

Bluejays Up

The Green Bay Bluejays continued to increase their attendance. The Jays, in their recent home stand, had four nights in which the gate was over 1,000.

The Fox Cities and Winona remained the only two clubs below the 1,000 mark. The Foxes, victims of several losing streaks, experienced dwindling crowds every night of their recent 6-game home stand, going from a high of 1,268 the first night to a low of 474 two nights later and 508 in the last game.

Winona counted only two home dates in the week, an afternoon-evening doubleheader at the beginning of the week.

Pontiac, Mich. — Ed Scherer of Waukesha, Wis., broke 125 straight targets Wednesday as he won the 20-gauge title at the National Skeet shoot.

Scherer defeated two other shooters in a 25-target shoot-off after all three had tied with perfect scores after 100 targets. Luddy Brown of Birmingham, Mich., placed second in the shootoff and Miner Clift of Childersburg, Ala., was third.

Braves Stop Dodgers, Regain First Place

Settle Old Scores With 4-3 Victory

Milwaukee — Scores were settled on all sides in County stadium Wednesday night, and in the accounting the Milwaukee Braves hauled themselves back into first place in the National league.

The Braves moved out in front once more clawing past the San Francisco Giants, who trail by a single percentage point, 558 to 557.

The springboard this time was a 4-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, stopped on the 6th pitch of Milwaukee's fabulous lefty, Warren Spahn, who ended seven years of personal frustration with the conquest.

It was only his first start against the Dodgers in two years and second in five years. They had beaten him eight times since he defeated them the last time, on Sept. 25, 1951, by a score of 6-3 in Boston.

The 37-year-old Spahn last started — and lost — against the Dodgers in June of 1956 when he lasted less than two innings. He appeared against them last in relief in 1957, but there was no decision. It was his fourteenth victory over the Dodgers who have beaten him 24

Packers Please McLean in 1st Scrimmage

Protection for Passer Stressed In Contact Drill

Green Bay Press-Gazette Sports Editor

Green Bay — The 1958 Packers scrimmaged for the first time at Wednesday afternoon's practice and Coach Ray McLean was pleased with the rough stuff "as a whole."

Nineteen plays were run off under controlled contact conditions — designed chiefly as protection for the passer, but other phases such as ground rushing plays were also worked.

McLean said he didn't care to single out any individuals for good work but that he felt that "the general character of the drill was fine; they showed that they knew the plays that have been given out thus far. Pass protection was better than I had expected."

McLean's aides — Jack Morton, Ray Richards, "Breezy" Reid and Nick Skorich — also were hepped up after the workout. They thought the athletes were hitting with plenty of force in view of the fact that Wednesday actually was only the third day of drills.

While the coaches held back singling out individuals, the sideliners caught a few eye-fuls — such as Bobby Lance's good tackle of a ball-carrier and Max McGee's catch of a pass from "Babe" Parilli.

Moved Well

Big Mike Hudock, working behind Jim Ringo at center, seemed to move well and blocked with gusto despite sore feet.

One of the major oddities was the employment of offensive linemen on defense and vice versa. In previous years, only one or two of the athletes worked in both departments.

Tom Bettis, a guard and linebacker at Purdue and a 4-year Packer veteran, never worked in the offensive line in scrimmage here until today.

Nate Borden, a defensive end or tackle since becoming a pro three years ago, tried his hand at offensive tackle, with good results, while Norm Masters, of all people worked a bit at defensive tackle.

In fact, one defensive line

Only Black Mark

Milwaukee — Warren Spahn, after beating the Dodgers Wednesday night for the first time in almost seven years, minimized the conquest saying, "Heck, everybody else has beaten them."

But that was only his first comment in the clubhouse post-mortem following his 4-3 victory that lifted the Milwaukee Braves once more into first place in the National league, one percentage point in front of the San Francisco Giants. He added:

Dodgers Changed

"I'm out to prove just one thing. This is the only club that has an edge over me. They're 24-14 against me, and it's the only black mark on my record. I want to get even before I quit."

"Last year I won the Cy Young award for baseball's top pitcher, but even then I wasn't completely satisfied. The only thing I wanted more than ever was to pitch against the Dodgers. That's been a big sore spot with me. If you're considered a good pitcher,

Fox Cities Have New Outfielder, Hank Marockie

Outfielder Hank Marockie has been added to the roster of the Fox Cities Foxes by the parent Washington Senators.

Marockie is not expected to count against the Foxes' 17-player limit since he is on the national defense (NDS) list, just having been discharged from military service.

The right-hander batting Marockie batted 274 with 71 runs batted in for Class D Fort Walton Beach in the Alabama-Florida league last season.

Evanston, Ill. — Three standout backs on the college All-Star squad are sidelined by injuries but all are expected to face the Detroit Lions in Soldier field the night of Aug. 15.

Jim Crow, Texas A & M has a bruised hip. Tennessee's Bobby Gordon has a jammed shoulder. Dick Christy of North Carolina State is nursing a pulled leg muscle. Christy will join the Green Bay Packers after the game.

Head all-star Coach Otto Graham said he was pleased thus far with progress of the collegians who began practice last Thursday. "We still have a long way to go, however, and we're not ready to play the Lions right now," he said.

But he said one victory "doesn't prove anything" in his personal campaign against the Dodgers. "I want to start again — to beat 'em again."

He also suggested the Dodgers reflect their last place standing when he said, "They used to be a great team in the old days. Then they loaded the lineup with right-handers and there wasn't a left-hander who could beat them consistently. They used to gloat about it."

Braves Manager Fred Haney neatly avoided the question when asked if the current makeup and status of the Dodgers influenced his decision to start the 37-year-old Spahn. "I didn't want to keep him idle too long," Haney said.

But a grinning acknowledgment that it made "a little difference" came from Pee Wee Reese, a holdover from the old days, who had a single and two walks in four trips.

Will Represent Post-Crescent As Catcher in Annual All-Star Game Aug. 7 at Milwaukee

Russell Rusch, 21, of route 1, Fremont, has been selected to represent the Appleton Post-Crescent's Silver Sluggers school in the third annual Silver Sluggers All-Star game next Thursday, in Milwaukee County stadium.

Rusch was selected as a catcher, marking the second straight year the Post-Crescent's representative has been chosen at that position. Last year Darold Eggert, who normally plays elsewhere, was selected to the team after trying out at the catcher's spot. Rusch tried out at catcher and prefers to play that position, but he can and does play third base or outfield.

He has been playing at third this season for the New London Merchants of the Badger Amateur Baseball association's Southern division.

Morning Game

The 6-foot, 175-pound, right-handed Rusch and 22 other members of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan All-Star squad will meet the Milwaukee All-Stars in the stadium tilt. The All Stars will take the field before the regularly scheduled Braves-Pirates game that afternoon, with the all-star game

Boats Begin Turning Lake Washington Upside Down Friday

Seattle — More than 150 outboard motorboats begin turning placid Lake Washington upside down Friday, opening a 10-day spray-tossing program that will reach its climax Aug. 10 with the 51st running of the Gold Cup speedboat race.

The outboards will come in from boating centers up and down the west coast on a 1-day regatta, one event in Seattle's annual seafair.

Saturday and Sunday the water-skiing limited inboard hydroplanes will compete for five national championships. Monday the big unlimited class hydroplanes will begin their qualifying trials for the Gold Cup race.

The entry list for the Gold Cup had reached 18 at last check.

Riverside stopped Miller Electric, 8-3, and Interlake was pushed all the way to the wall before edging Coated Paper with a last-of-the-seventh rally, 6-5, in the American Industrial Softball league Wednesday night.

Both teams remained tied for first place in the league. In the had Masters and Jerry Helluin, normally a defender, at tackles; center-linebacker Sam Palumbo at middle guard; and Harry Horton and Ken Gray, both rookies, at end. Gray, incidentally, is a 240-pound tackle who displayed plenty of willingness to mix it.

Taste of Action

All four quarterbacks were given a taste of action, with Joe Francis showing something of an edge on Doug Maisen. Bart Starr and "Babe" Parilli, the two holdovers, both are rapidly rounding into form.

Francis also is getting a test as a defensive back — a position he also handled in college football. The native Hawaiian, incidentally, has been passing exceptionally well.

More scrimmaging was on tap for this afternoon. McLean kept a "quick whistle" ready yesterday, thus cutting down the chance of injuries. When a back broke through the line the whistle was blown to keep him from getting chopped up by the linebackers or cornerbacks.

Trainer "Bud" Jorgensen was happy to report that there were no injuries — "only the usual little stuff that doesn't amount to anything in the long run."

clusive of pitching — turned out to be of less than Class B caliber and was replaced, in large measure. Secondly, unusually bad weather kept down attendance.

The Foxes still need pitching help and there is a good possibility that they will obtain it from Washington. Joe Albanese, a 6-3 righthander who is currently working out with the American league Senators, may be sent here.

Albanese was 9-8 in the Class A Eastern league last season.

Willis says that when the Senators saw that the team which they sent here at the beginning of the year was not going to win, they did everything in their power to improve the situation.

The Washington farm system has been one of the major league's "weak sisters" for years since the late Clark Griffith, long-time club president, didn't believe in the practicality of a good farm operation.

Policy Changed

According to Sherry Robertson, the Senators' farm director, that policy has been changed since the ascendancy to the presidency of Calvin Griffith. Clark's son. Washington has signed 38 bonus players in recent months.

But, though the Nats are trying, Rome wasn't built in a day and neither is a first-rate farm set-up.

The Foxes have made no commitment, as yet, to Washington or anyone else on next season's affiliation.

McClone, the other club directors and Willis have worked hard this season to make the local operation go. Both Robertson and Three-I league President Hal Totten, have called the club's board of directors one of the best they have seen in the minors.

Thanks to the officials, and the city of Appleton, Goodland field is a clean and well-kept park with good concession facilities.

Core of 500

"The public can't expect the board of directors to keep baseball here for a core of just 400 or 500 faithful fans," McClone says. "Other towns which have had Class B ball and lost it are sorry and now would like it back. But, usually, once it's gone it's gone for good."

"We are interested only in breaking even," McClone asserts, "we don't feel we have to make money on baseball. We believe that having baseball here is in the public's best interest."

Willis said that "the board of directors and myself will do everything in our power to bring the Fox Cities a winner in the near future."

Maybe the fans can help the present outfit pull out of its tailspin by cheering the boys on during the current 3-game home stand, and in the remaining 16 dates here this season. And then, with a year of Class B experience under their belts, the club officials can be expected to go all out to "bring the Fox Cities a winner" next year.

Meet Your Foxes

Furlow Tallest, Newest Man on Foxes' Roster

BY JIM VAN HORN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Righthanded pitcher Earl Furlow holds several distinctions — he is the tallest player (6-6½) of the Fox Cities team and very possibly in the Three-I league, and he is the only Foxes' pitcher without a loss.

The 20-year-old, 225-pound pitcher is also the newest man on the club, having come here from Charlotte of the Class A South Atlantic league a little over a month ago. In that time, however, he has been kept busy, pitching in approximately half of the Foxes' games mainly in relief. The Senators feel that Furlow's best future in their system is as a reliever. Furlow, who is single, has one of the best earned run average of any Foxes pitcher — 4.50. He has a 2-0 record and has pitched a total of 32 innings in 13 games.

Second Year

The tall righthander, who has been a pitcher for his entire baseball career, is in his second year of pro baseball. After signing a contract with the Washington Senators Class AA Chattanooga farm club, from whom he is on option now in March, 1957, he went to Missoula of the Class C Pioneer league. Pitching mostly in relief, he compiled a 9-10 record, with a 4.56 ERA. After opening this season at Charlotte, he was sent to the Fox Cities after posting a 1-1 record.

Earl, a native of Fort Smith, Ark., played basketball and baseball (before it was cut out) in high school. He also played five years of American Legion baseball, during which his team won the state championship twice and was runner-up in the regional tournament.

After graduating from high

school, Earl attended Oklahoma A. and M. for a year, where he played both basketball and baseball before signing his contract in March, 1957. Earl started out studying business, but now plans to be a coach.

champion in 1947 and finalist three years ago, was dumped in the first round by Dick Spaulding of Green Bay, 3 and 2. Spaulding failed to survive the second round, losing 4 and 3, to Dr. Durward Baker of Milwaukee.

Another Champ

Another former champion from Madison, Harland Reich, who claimed the title in 1941, was ousted in the second round by Harold Knuth of Racine, 6 and 5. Steady par golf carried Knuth to the decision.

Among others who moved into today's double round that will select semi-finalists were medalist Jack Hessler of Milwaukee; Fred Gage of Madison and LeRoy May of Racine.

Brue earned the nod of tournament favorite with a 2-1 victory over Jack Thomsen of Kenosha and by beating Milwaukee Ken Berke, 4-3. Brue was 1-under on the strength of good putting in beating Berke.

Hessler had his biggest battle in the first round when he was extended to 20 holes by Sid Soleum of Milwaukee. The medalist then took a 5-4 victory over Lowell Bakken of Madison.

Beats Jacobs

Gage, in the morning round, beat Robert Head of Milwaukee, 1-up, and then trimmed Curt Jacobs of Oconomowoc, 2-up.

May moved up with a 4-2 victory over George Thacher of Lake Geneva and by ousting Madison's Fred Kellogg, 3-2.

Other contenders who were bumped out of action were Wally Atwood and Harry Simonson of Madison and Jimmy Lohr of Sheboygan.

The best round of the day was turned in by Milwaukee's Archie Dadian, the state public links champion. He went out in 32 and was 5-under-par for 13 holes in dispatching George Olney of Milwaukee, 6-5. He later beat John Jennings of Chequamegon by the same score.

Pairings Told

Today's third round pairing: Levenhagen vs. May, Gage vs. Archie Wallen, Madison, Brue vs. DeYoung, Les Rasan-sky, Milwaukee, vs. Jack Al-len, Madison.

Hessler vs. Paul Gilles, Milwaukee, Bob Thomas, Milwaukee, vs. Dadian, Baker vs. Art

Edison Overturns Lincoln, 17-7, in Playground Loop

Edison beat Lincoln, 18-7, in recent action of the Senior Boys Playground Softball league of the Appleton Recreation department. Jerry Schmidt pitched a 7-hitter.

In the Girls' Playground softball loop, Lincoln took over first place alone by beating Columbus, 19-5, on Nancy Bartman's 7-hitter. In the other game, Washington stopped Linwood, 20-4.

Scott Kraft pitched a 5-hitter and hit two home runs as Edison blasted Erb, 19-2, in the Northern division of the Junior Boys' league. Edison is tied with Whispering Pines, which won on a forfeit.

In the Southern division, Lincoln won the championship, beating Linwood, 11-2. John Kading hurled a 5-hitter. Lincoln is scheduled to play the winner of the Northern division for the Junior league championship.

Davenport Tips Cedar Rapids

Winners Score 2 Unearned Runs In Sixth Inning

By The Associated Press
Davenport, which has been stumbling around ever since winning the Three-I league's first-half championship, seems to be snapping out of it.

The Dav-Sox shaded league-leading Cedar Rapids, 2-1, Wednesday night for their fifth straight victory. The streak has carried Davenport out of the basement and to within 6½ games of first place.

A crowd of 1,985 saw Davenport win by scoring two unearned runs in the sixth inning. Cedar Rapids shortstop Bob Knop booted Chuck Lindstrom's grounder with the bases loaded for a 2-run error.

Cedar Rapids' run came on Joe Trenary's homer leading off the ninth. Bill Hamilton, the loser, allowed only six hits, two on bunts and another on an infield roller.

Two players will represent the Menominee, Mich., Herald Leader. The Braves scout, number 1 choice Dick Mushynski, a first baseman from Menominee, broke his arm several days after he was selected. Despite the injury, the scouts named Mushynski to the state Stars even though he would not be able to play, feeling that his ability and attitude deserved the honor. The Braves scouts then selected Harlan Greunster, a Stevenson, Mich., shortstop, to play so that Menominee would have a representative on the field. The players will return to their homes on Friday.

12 More Acres Added to Park At High Cliff

Official of State Conservation Unit Talks to Kiwanians

Conservation department official Clyde Smith, Campbellport, told Appleton Kiwanians Wednesday noon that the E. H. Verbrick property on the top of High Cliff now is a part of High Cliff State Forest park. The acquisition of the 12-acre tract brings the present park area to 342 51 acres.

Smith spoke at the organization's luncheon meeting at the Conway hotel. He is supervisor of the northern district of the Kettle Moraine State park and in charge of the High Cliff park development.

Verbrick received $25,000 from the state last week for the scenic property. Under conditions of the sale, he will continue to operate his tavern, amusement park and picnic business for the next two years.

Sanitary Facilities

Work started this week on sanitary facilities and tables for the picnic grounds on the south side of the road in the newly acquired tract, Smith reported. He also said that preliminary work has begun on a 2-mile nature trail along the cliff ridge, just above water level. Nature specimens will be marked along the trail, he said and plans for the future include two or three footpaths leading up to the top of the cliff from the trail. This nature trail is on land formerly owned by the Western Lime and Cement company.

Smith said $289,500 has been spent on the park since 1956 when the state bought the first 288-acre tract from the lime and cement company. About $11,000 of this amount has come from citizen donations.

The need for a park in the area has been upheld by the number of people using it, he said. More than 18,000 persons used the park in 1957 when the temporary picnic grounds on the lake shore opened on July 1, he said, and this year's count has already doubled that number. Smith believes that the more than 50,000 will use the park before the picnic and swimming season ends in the fall.

Treatment for Ills Depends On Proper Diagnosis, Tests

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

A letter came a little bit ago from a woman who has some sort of kidney ailment, plainly an infection, and not to be ignored.

But, she asked, would I suggest some patent medicine that she could take because, as she put it, she had stopped going to a specialist to whom she had been sent by her own doctor.

Her complaint was that 'he isn't doing anything for me. All he has done is take tests.'

My guess is that she is a new-comer to my column, because regular readers are certainly aware of how much time I spend in preaching the importance of finding out what is wrong before expecting to determine a treatment that will do some good.

Go Back to Specialist

That is precisely the weakness in patent medicines. They consist sometimes of things that will do some good provided you have whatever the patent medicine is for.

Like most doctors, however, I cling to the old-fashioned idea that the medicine should fit the patient—not the patient be required to fit the medicine.

So to this woman with the kidney ailment, I say go straight back to that specialist, let him finish his tests, and then let him decide on the treatment. In the long run that will save time, not to mention money and perhaps even your life.

No Harm Done

DE F writes that on a visit to the hospital a doctor gave her small son a vial of mercury to play with because the boy 'thought it was so pretty in the bottle.'

Next the boy spilled some mercury in some sandwich spread for dad's sandwiches, or so the boy said, but not until long after the sandwiches had been eaten DE F goes on.

'Naturally I was very much upset but my husband said it could do no harm. I thought perhaps you could tell me how or if mercury could be detected in the system, as I don't know to this day if our little boy was 'fitted' by arthritis. There is, therefore, bing. Anyway, I took the vial of mercury away from him. I particular benefit in arthritis should think doctors would be careful of what is given to a child.'

Well, DE F, you can safely relax. Mercury is so heavy that any droplets would have fallen out of the sandwich. But if not, still no harm done. There was a mercury was given in stubborn cases of constipation. Whether it really did any good is doubtful. Usually it simply worked on through the intestines. But sometimes the constipation was really a bowel obstruction and the heavy mercury in such cases, gathering at the blocked place, did real damage by its sheer weight. Anyway, it hasn't been used for years.

My major quarrel with giving mercury to an urchin to play with is that it is expensive stuff—much too expensive to splatter in dad's sandwich spread.

Gelatin Protein

I've had a corral of inquiries about gelatin for people with arthritis. How much to take? What kind? The answer is that plain (unsweetened) gelatin is almost entirely protein, although protein of certain types. Many people take it with a glass of water or fruit juice. Most unspread gelatin now comes so the boy said, but not until long after the sandwiches had been eaten DE F goes on.
